Prologue

□My lady, I have received the package.□

As soon as I came back from school, the first person I met was Yamamoto-san, a butler of my household. If I remember correctly, it's today, huh... I was too busy and had forgotten about it. But in truth, I was looking forward to it and concealed my inner excitement.

□Understood, thank you very much□

Yamamoto-san immediately leave without saying a single word... Well then, I will also go back to my room and prepare it!

I, Ichijou Reina, am the eldest daughter of the Duke Ichijou's household which is one of Japanese aristocrat families.

I've been raised in this tough family environment and taught adequate manners of a lady that is appropriate for the family. I hate this kind of life since I was a child, especially those eyes, as if they saw a tool when talking to me with the intention of approaching my father... maybe, or should I say, I believe that my father also hates me. I have thought about it myself, but I'm still not sure where did I do wrong....

I think that there are not so many people have had the experience of pouring water to the ant's nest or catching insects and make them fight when they were a child. However, for me, there was no limit of hesitation as well as restraint to do those kind of stuff.

Thinking that I had done it in the public gaze is too bizarre for the current me..., but I can say for sure that it will still be regarded as a youthful indiscretion due to the fact that I was only a small child.

That is why, I liked my mother who always taught me to be "normal". She will stop me before I overdid it, taught me carefully and kindly about "righteous conduct", and told me to consult with her if something happened.

When I think about it now, my mother was probably worried about my future while thinking about me, who is her only daughter.

It was after I got into elementary school that I came to such a turning point. Children are cruel and sensitive to "strange object". A beautiful wet feather-colored black hair that has the same appearance with her mother. Not wearing common "everyone's" clothes or latest children's clothes, but instead western clothes that was made from the scratch and proved to be expensive at a glance.

At this level everyone would still said "wow" and "cute"...

However, I was not "normal".

While being a child.....no, probably because, I, was a child, excluding the time when we enrolled, I noticed that I have started to bully those so-called "strange object".

But at this time, I did not realized that this was a bullying and thought that it was just "a regular play" like what I always do. Hiding people's things and burned it in front of them, pushing someone down until his/her front teeth are broken, and if they complained, I will put insects inside their mouth and forced them to chew. There was no free time for me.

Such thing continued on and on until no one wants to get close to me. Then, it happened when I passed the staff room. I could hear my mother apologizing... though, I did not know what she was apologizing for but I felt that "I have probably done something wrong".

I didn't know what reason my beloved mother did such a thing, however, all I know is that it was probably my fault...

With only that much, I became frustrated and stood still. My mother who just came out from the staff room, saw me right in front of her and surprised. But, she then eventually smiled and said,

□Wanna go home?□

And from then on, I stopped □playing□. Even if something happened I ward it off with a girlish smile and I never give myself in. As my age grew older and older, I have noticed that I was strange.

My father sees me more and more with cold eyes and seems to always hit my mother harshly. But my mother still endured and looked at me with warm eyes.

However, when my mother suffered from cancer and died after a few years of battling it, my father immediately remarried with his cheating partner and even brought in her daughter and son. My intuition told me, □Aah, if I let this be, I will eventually play with them□, thus I moved away along with my mother's furniture from her room in the mansion. Fortunately, my father was not interested to what I was doing.

My father only doted his step-daughter (little sister) and son (little brother), and had already lost interest in me a long time ago, hence he said nothing to me.

However, it was a life-and-death matter for me. The reason being was, my mother, who used to be the support of my heart, was nowhere beside me and it was difficult to come to terms with the □abnormality□ in me. As I examined the various conflict regions and the criminal laws of this country, I stumbled upon advertisements for online games towards the end.

I got intrigued and investigated it a little bit more, and bought it immediately as it was just right for the current me and the service was also about to be opened.

And that is what was arrived today.

□It's finally arrived, Karma Story Online! The service itself had just started yesterday but it's still within the acceptable range.□

Karma Story Online, commonly known as □KSO□, is a new VRMMORPG which the players themselves are the ones who could change their karma value depending their own actions. Then, they will eventually belong to one of the three factions, order, chaos and neutral. Although I said factions, there is nothing that you need to do such as belonging to a specific organization or country. NPCs will be treated as criminals or saints, and there would be important cost for your decision, such as restrictions on a certain facilities, classes that can be picked or cannot be picked, etc.

In this game, you can not select the side you belong to from the beginning. The karma value changes while the players play the game as it relies on his/her attitude toward NPCs, conquest method, contribution to a specific country or organization, etc.

Almost all players who are still unable to move from the first town will be neutral.

□It's been more than a day since the service started, maybe some people are already out of the neutral faction...□

And above all, on the official website, it was written that the admins will tolerate any speech or behavior unless it violates the real laws such as cracking or sexual harassment in the game. I think that this place is the best choice for □playing□.

The fact that one's standing position changes depending on one's actions is contrary to my home environment where as my standing position is clearly defined from the beginning regardless of my own intention, thus it has drawn me in as it's an extremely attractive offer for me. It seems that this game is also a way to release all of the resentment and frustration which cannot be done in real life.

□Okay then, the installation has already finished, so let's play right away!□

As I already went to the toilet and well hydrated, I lied down on the bed which has a faint smell of mother, and excitedly crowned myself with the head monitor which similar to a thin halo. Selected the game icon with eye movement, and logged in as it is.

(TL Note: I don't understand about the Head Monitor (the raw says Bed Display) here... maybe the author was trying to say a head display or similar to it as it says that it looks like a thin halo.)

Chapter 1 - Character Setup

□Welcome to KSO!□

It was a white space with nothing except those capital letters and my real-life figure. If I looked around closely, this place is probably the character making room.

Then, I heard a voice from behind.

Nico: □Welcome Ichijou Reina-sama, I, Support AI No. 25, will assist your character setup. Please feel free to call me Nico-chan□ Seems like this beautiful woman (Nico-chan), who looks like a secretary with a Noh Mask, can help me with my character setup.

Reina: □I understand, Nico-chan-san□

Nico: □Let's immediately go into your character setup. Here you may select 10 initial skills in addition to your player name and appearance in the game. Naturally, you cannot change it later, so please be careful with your options.□

Reina: □Okay then, let's make it right away□

Now then, as soon as our conversation is over, a translucent screen appeared in front of me. I see, I could make my character by operating this screen.

Let's see, the name will be... □Rena□ which comes from my real name. It seems a bit simple, but I'm aware that I don't have any naming sense as I have ventured nowhere.

Next is race. There are many options, but [Human] is the safe choice indeed. As it will probably be too hard for the appearance to be far apart from the reality, I set the height and figure as it is. Let's keep the hair short so that it won't stick to the shoulder and make it black with an addition of white highlight too. As I also don't have a sense for a face, I just kept it like my real face rather than fiddling it strangely. It would probably be okay as there are no real acquaintances who plays games anyway. Would it be enough if I change the eyes' color into wine red....

The rest is the skills.....yikes, there are a lot. My play style is mostly fixed, but it will still take some time if I search for a suitable skills and think about the combination, hmm[][]

[][]Alright, it took a while but it ended safely.

Reina: [It's finished]

Nico: [Would this be good? Are there any other changes?]

Reina: [Yes, this should be fine. Please make it like this]

The skills I have chosen are [Dagger Art], [Throwing], [Walking], [Acrobatics], [Medicine], [Surprise Attack], [Tame], [Camouflage], [Detection], and [Friendship].

Nico: [Well then, lastly, please select your preferences]

Reina: [? Preferences?]

Is there still something left? Or maybe I just forgot about it?

Nico: [It's not that difficult, first of all, your sexual guard... it's about how far would you give your permission to be touched by the people in range[][]

Reina: [Please block everything]

Nico: □□□□Understood. Next is the depiction regulation setting, this is the setting whether you would prefer a game-like effect or a real-life basis when cutting your opponents down.□

Reina: □Then, please give me the real-life basis□

Nico: □Lastly, about the pain limitation. It's still fine if there is a little pain however, as it is close to real pain, the system will do a force logout or make a response if it is judged to be your limit, hence there won't be a worry. So what would you□□□

Reina: □Please don't limit that too□

Nico: □.....Understood. Please take care of yourself as it might be an instant death even in reality if someone aimed for your vital parts such as the neck or heart. This is the end of the preferences. Please wait a moment as we are preparing your character data.□

Now then, it took quite a while but I'm looking forward to it.

Nico: □.....Thank you for your patience. With this, the entire process has now completed. Before you get started, there's one last piece of advice□

Reina: □? What is it?□

Nico: □In this world, player can gain skills and influence the world depending on the player's own actions. Unlike players, NPCs that live in this world can not be resurrected if they die, so please be careful in advance.....□

Reina: □I see, I will take care.□

Nico: □.....Well then, I pray that your adventure would be exciting... Welcome to Karma Story Online!□

With that word, Nico-san lowered her head, and I was swallowed by the white light that filled my view□□□

Chapter 2 - Tutorial Uncle's Murder Case

When the white light cleared up, I had arrived at the fountain plaza of the [First Town] where stone and wooden Eastern European-like buildings are lined up.

Rena: [So many...]

The place was crowded with people, probably some players mixed in as they dressed in the same initial gear as me. People who are not good with this are likely to get sick. Isn't the people here alone already a total of three digits?

Rena: [Well, anyhow...]

———From here on, let's switch as [Rena] instead of [Ichijou Reina].

Now then, if I look around, I could see that there's a lot of places that is crowded with people. At the center of the [First Town] lies an NPC called [Tutorial Uncle] and [Our Aniki], who dressed seemingly as a soldier from a so-called country.

(TL Note: Aniki = Elder Brother or young man who's older than oneself and respected)

In this game, NPCs that had appeared in the beta version will not change their speech and conduct towards real people, which also includes the first

NPC that the players will come into contact with as he's very popular among players due to his human scent and friendly character.

When a player appeared and tried to have a real consultation about how to avoid his divorce in the beta version, the NPC answered everything seriously, and thus he became the man of the hour(?). Since such NPC tells the player how to fight monsters, how to use skills and magic, and various other things for the first quest, as his name suggests, it can be said that it is necessary for the players to talk to this NPC first.

Rena: □This is really a lot...□

The moment after I got tired of looking around, I tried to get close to the Tutorial Uncle but there are too many people blocking... well, it's also convenient from here on though.

Rena: □Umm,□

Uncle: □Hmm? Aah, you are also a migrant, right?□

Rena: □Well, yes.□

I could finally talk to him... there really are too many players... Well, I'm already used to moving in this crowd, so it's no problem. By the way, for the NPCs, migrant is what they called the player with.

Uncle: □Do you want to ask something too?□

Rena: □Yes, I just came here and there's a lot of things that I don't understand□

Uncle: □If it's like that, then this quest□□□□

Rena: □□□□so that's why, I will need you to die.□

Thus, I used the initial equipment dagger that I had and decapitated the Tutorial Uncle.

???: [Huh?]

Who uttered that word? Right now, in the fountain plaza, as if the time had stopped, the players and the NPCs have opened their mouths regardless of whether they are standing still or not. It was probably the people behind me who cannot see anything.

Rena: [...alright]

The dagger cast a faint red-black effect when I decapitated the uncle, which is the proof that the [Surprise Attack] skill was activated. Though, it would seem that as the name suggests, it was a surprise attack rather than an assassination and it would activate even if you attack suddenly from the front, this is good.

Or rather, blood has spurted out like a fountain from the decapitated body, probably because I set the depiction setting to real-life basis. Is there any player who saw it the same like me?

Oh? For some reason, I suddenly got a lot of announcements? Well, that's obvious as I'm still a Level 1 here and has just killed a country's soldier. For the rest... I'll check it later. Instead, I cannot afford to miss this opportunity where there's a vast majority of players here.

Rena: □□□□Fuh!□

While still looking back on what just occurred, I decapitated the two players who just had a friendly chat with the Tutorial Uncle before in one go. Because of real-life basis setting, they didn't turn out as particles of light and disappear, but instead they fell down while they were spurting out blood and burned. As I was thinking like that in the corner of my head, I quickly rushed into the crowd, decapitated everyone, pierced their heart, and stabbed their throat like a random assailant.

Player A: □W-what?!□

Player B: □Aniki is...!!□

Player C: □GYAAAAAAAAAA!!!□

Player D: □What's wrong? What is happening?!□

NPC: □S-SOMEONE! PLEASE HELP!!□

When they finally came back to their senses, it was already too late. I kicked the target's leg and stabbed him from the front...and pierced his throat before cutting him in mid-air. I, then grabbed the corpses that still remain and throw it as a cover while I hunt for another players' neck. As the PK continues, it spread the chaos even further.

Player F: "Ah! It's that girl!"

Player G: "That son of a bitch!"

Player H: "KILL HER!!"

Player I: "Seize her!"

Some of the confused players have started to respond a bit, are they from the beta version? Well, I won't change on killing everyone anyway as I have already PK-ed a total of two digits.

Player G: "Everyone calm down! Make some space!"

Player I: "Go surround her!"

Those who were calm tried to calm everyone down and took control of the surroundings just like water on a heated stone. If so, I will just make a U-turn and charge in.

Player G: "!! This piece of sh!"

Before he even realized it, I was able to remove his head, but at the cost of getting surrounded by two parties.

Player H: "Bastard! How dare you do that to Aniki!"

Player J: "Aren't you going a little bit too far?"

Player I: "You're now surrounded by at least 11 people. Just die obediently"

There are three swordsmen for the vanguard with one spear-user and axe-user on each side, and four people who looks like magicians and two archers in the back... If I don't move here, they will concentrate fire on me, but if I charge in, the vanguard will beat me up severely, and to make it worse, if I take a long time here, other players who have just returned to their senses will join in the battle. Then, the only option I could do now is....

Rena: □There's no choice but to escape, I see.□

Player I: □Ah! Wait, you bastard!□

I'm not a bastard, but I guess it's a good thing for them to say it like that due to the fact that I'm still running through the fountain plaza and killed some NPCs who were running a stall and players who were still in chaos.

Player J: □tsk!! That girl is still!□

Uh oh, when I looked back for a little bit, the miss rear guard has a terrible expression, heaven forbid.

Player K: □Shi-!!□

The archer fired an arrow and I grabbed a child NPC who was nearby as a shield.

Player K: □Are you a human?!□

□Are you a human?!□ is probably a no for me. Well, I also think that I'm a bad person, though. But in any case, I threw the kid behind me.

Player H: □Dangerous-!□

Player I: □tsk! If we don't heal that child quickly, he will die!□

One of the swordsmen caught the child brilliantly□□□but as his vision got blocked momentarily by catching the child, I stabbed him together with the child in his heart and the child's arm with my dagger. I then decapitate the priest girl who seemed to be running to help the child. The child who is still stuck on me is a hindrance, hence let's leave him on the spot.

Player L: □Ryne! Cherry!□

It's Ryne-san and Cherry-san, I see. Though, I'm not interested at all... and I proceed to go behind the spear-user who shouted and looked away from me. I put a kick on the back of his knees then tightened his neck and twisted it. I made sure that all of his HP is gone along with a wet "Pagya" sound.

Maybe because I set it real-life basis, his eyes gone white and he spewed bubbles from his mouth. Well, I will just leave him be as it is, thus I kicked his stomach, stole his spear and threw it to the rear guard.

As I tried to charge into the second swordsman who rushed to repel the spear, I saw a big axe flying before my eyes. I evaded it with somersault and threw the dagger that I had in hand to the axe-user which resulting in a wonderful headshot.

It felt truly good.

Rena: "What remains are two vanguard swordsmen, three magicians and two archers, I see..."

The guard NPCs and the players are gradually recovered from the confusion. There isn't much time anymore.....

Rena: "Let's end it here..."

Player I: "tsk!"

Player J: "Rear guards, assemble! We don't have enough hands here!"

I charged into the rear guard again and ignored the two vanguards. When the two flustered swordsmen rushed back to the rear guard so that they could easily protect them... I made a U-turn again as I don't need to sincerely go along with them until the end.

Player I & J: "Ah!"

I escaped and rushed out of the town while stabbing and decapitating some mob NPCs as per usual. Because I'm not familiar with the back alley and can not disappear into the crowd there, I ran through the main street as it is and dragged in the NPCs and players who doesn't know anything yet into chaos.

I pulled down the fully-loaded stalls and threw away the weapons that I took while passing by. The unlucky players got headshotted and killed instantly.

They were likely to catch up on me frequently, but I stopped and jumped backward and did a shoulder throw from their back each time. On that occasion, I borrowed their weapons and threw it behind and stabbed the other players' throat and killed them. I also stole some goods from the stalls and continued to escape.

If I have some time, I will focus on selling these essential items such as potions, which will increased in number of demands as well as the people who will use them in the future. While thinking about it, I'm going to be out of the town shortly.

NPC: □You there! Stop!□

The gatekeeper ordered me to stop when the gate was just about to be seen, but I ignored it and jumped overhead. Escaping from the □First town□ is a success.

Ooohh?! Somehow, there's a lot coming up...

Will they decide to withdraw pursuing me as the area will change from the first town into a battle zone? Well, they're still chasing me anyway, so let's run into the south forest which is right in front of me for now.

Player M: □Wait!□

Player N: □Hey, is this an event?□

Player O: □Isn't it too fast for an event? This is only the second day of service, right?□

Player P: □Well for now, it should be good if we catch that girl first, I guess?□

It seems that some players who doesn't know the circumstances in detail are also participating in this pursuit, though I will never be caught.

Rena: □Now then...□

I have reached the South Forest and went to a certain depth. I, then hid in the shade of the trees,□□ ———cut my throat and committed suicide.

Chapter 3 - An Act Done Fearlessly Even To The Gods

Now then, seems like I have safely respawned in the temple. I see, this place is indeed beautiful. The statue that lies in the center is this game world's God from the Order faction, so-called "The Seven-colored Noble God" if I'm correct....oh wait, I cannot afford to observe freely as the players that I've KILL-ed are also mixed in and gathering here. The bishop NPC is currently standing out on her own to quell the confusion... This is just right.

Player Q: "W-what just happened back there?!"

One of the poor victims who doesn't know anything about me, came running as soon as he respawned...by the way, I have activated my "Camouflage" skill and change my hair color to red...just like that, I successfully slipped into the crowd.

Bishop: "Everyone, please calm down!"

The bishop of this temple seems to be the top among the bishop class as the first town is quite a large town. She's currently trying to suppress the confusion calmly.

Bishop: "That person is likely a messenger of chaos, and will eventually receive a divine punishment."

Player C: "Messenger of chaos? As expected, was it a part of an event or quest?"

Player E: "Like hell I would know that."

Player D: "But that person looks like a normal player, though?"

I see, it looks like I'm called as a messenger of chaos and such. There are still some players who mistook it as a player, though. Well, my karma value seems to have dropped a lot so they're probably not wrong, but I have to confirm it in details just to make sure.

Bishop: "Nevertheless, please be relieved! You all have the blessings of order! And of course! We promise you that as long as you stay in this temple, you will be safe!"

Are you sure? Well, let's leave them be like that.

My trap has been set so let's kill them.

Rena: "Ah! It's her! She's the one who killed us!"

I have turned a stranger into someone who has the same characteristics as me with my "Camouflage" skill and screamed towards him to bring everyone's awareness.

(TL Note: Rena turned a male player into her)

Player G: "Son of a bitch! How dare you show up in here!"

Player R: "Wait! It's not me!"

Player G: "Shut your goddamn mouth!"

Bishop: "Everyone, please remain calm!"

Everyone's gaze turn to that person instantly and caused an uproar. The bishop is trying to stop it, but seems impossible.

Player S: "KILL HER! KILL HER!"

Player T: "JUST DO IT!"

Even some players who are entertained with this have started to come out and incited it even more. With this, it won't be easy to control the situation... In the meantime, I moved in and just like that,□□□

Bishop: □Wh!!□

□□□I activated the newly acquired □Fatal Blow□ and □Surprise Attack□ skills to pierce the bishop's heart. Just before she fell down while spurting out blood from her mouth, I stole a seemingly expensive necklace or whatever that was hanging from her neck. Then, I kicked away some players and grabbed a dagger that was placed on top of the altar and it has a sacred aura which is likely to be a divine artifact or whatsoever.

Just like that, I decapitated the nuns who were the bishop's attendants, jumped over the players' head,□□□lit up the torch with the oil that I stole some time ago□□□and ran through the temple. The players who has □Water Magic□ appeared to be struggling to extinguish the fire as I have lit the torch right in the middle of the same crumpled place as the chaos started. To begin with, it's not good to pour water into a fire that used oil, you know?

Player R: □tsk! It's her! That girl is the real one!□

Player E: □She's the one who lit the fire!□

Player D: □Capture her!□

Player G: □You guys are a hindrance!□

When they have started to notice me, I will already be close to the exit. I instantly killed the temple gatekeepers, who did not know anything about the uproar that happened inside, and ran towards the underground tomb on the north side which is the opposite direction from last time.

The guard NPCs who are blocking the road were hit with my dagger's hilt. Then, I grabbed one of the guards, cut off both arms and used his body as a shield.

Guard A: □You bastard!!□

His comrade shouted with furious facial expression but it's only an annoyance for me. With this, the rear guards cannot interfere.

I moved forward slowly while carrying him and then threw him in the middle of them who were trying to restrain me.

Guard A: "!! Hans!"

Oh? The armless guard's name is Hans, I see... Don't tell me, the developers even gave the mob NPCs a name too?

If that's the case, my attachment and feeling of guilt...

...won't even go out. It's a pity.

Guard A: "You bastard! Don't think we will capture you peacefully!!"

Guard B: "Prepare one or two of your limbs!"

Isn't that for everyone of you? If you're not careful, you might not be able to eat properly after this, you know? Well, I don't know about NPC, though....

I threw the torch right above Hans(?)'s head and used my "Throwing" skill for the oil bag that I had loaded in my pocket. It then broke upon impact and the contents were scattered for the torch fire to arrive.

Guard A: "WAAAAA?!"

Guard B: "Put it out! Put it out!"

I grabbed the nape of one of the panicked guards and threw him into a nearby wooden house"Of course, while on fire". Then, I ran away from the guards, who just changed their objective from capturing me to putting out the fire, by using the smoke as a cover.

.....did I overdo it? Especially the terrible titles that I want to make all sorts of retorts of... Well, I'm reflecting on it but I'm not regretting it as it has been a long time since I had this much fun, though.

Now then, the next thing that intrigues me after the titles is this new class selection possibility. I cannot help but to check this.

[Karma value] has reached to a certain level. Specific conditions have been met and new classes can now be selected.

[Level] has reached to a certain level. The second class slot has now been unlocked.

Please choose from the following options[][]

There are a lot of them, I see...

Alright, let's decide here quickly! I will choose this... and this!

Name: [Rena] | Gender: [Woman]

Race: [Human] | Level: [27]

Karma Value: [-128 [Evil]]

Class: [Assassin] | Second Class: [Tamer]

Yeah, this should be fine!

Assassin could get bonuses on STR, AGI, and DEX. It also has special effects against humans.

Tamer has tame skills just like the name suggests, hence there are bonuses on INT and LUK, and also an increase chance of taming monsters. It's difficult to put together a party with my play-style from the start. Though, there is also a limit to what I can do while being solo and there will be a lot of enemies approaching me as I already earn huge hatred from them. Thus, it was added for the purpose of teaching younglings that would support me and the timing is just right as the monsters that I'm looking for also appears in this tomb.

The next thing to check is the dropped items and money, let's see.....

Let's not see that! Yup! Well then, let's begin our search!

Chapter 5 - Underground Tomb Exploration

Now then, as I have finished checking the battle results, I'm exploring the tomb in full-scale and I have apparently spotted an enemy.

Zombie: □Oouuhh...□

Seems like it's just a zombie-like□□□Uhh, it stinks! It really stinks! This place is very harmful for someone who sets Real-life Basis, indeed.

Rena: □...I don't want to get close to it□

Hence, I grabbed my torch and put some oil in my mouth until it's full then spouted it out in one go. Well, it's a fire breathing technique, right?

Zombie: □...uuhh□

As expected, it seems to be its weak point, though the effect is not that high. It will be faster if I close in, so let's kill it quickly as it will be a problem if I spend a lot of time here.

□Acquired Skill: □Acrobatic□□

I-I don't need-...no wait! Surely it could be used for something later! I will believe in the acrobatic skills!

Rena: □Fuuh...how should I put this... Would there be a skill that I could get if I explore without a torch? For example, night vision or eyes in the dark?□

There should be a high probability of getting it as everything in this game will depend on the players themselves. Hence, let's explore without light.

I have gotten used to it gradually and could vaguely see my feet now.

When I thought about that, something flew along with the wind noise.

Rena: [!!]

That was dangerous. If my reaction was delayed a little, I will take some damage.....but, seems like the monster which I'm looking for, came from the other side.

Race: [Living Dead Sword] | Level: [7]

Condition: [Normal]

I tried to activate [Tame], but it failed. Well, that's a given, I guess. It's that [You need to show off the difference in power first] thing, right?

Rena: [Fu!!]

Thus, I knocked down the one who flew again with my dagger, trampled on it before it flies again and hit it with the hilt.

Sword: [!!!] [!!!] []

Rena: [How is it? Do you feel like submitting to me now?]

Just in case, I hit another five times and then activated [Tame] again..... it was a success this time, so let's check its status.

I see, [Armor Possession], huh..... It's a skill that is likely what I was thinking about. Let's try it.

Rena: [...Can you possess this dagger?]

Sword: [][][][][][]

The original single-edged sword that has become rusted, crumbled and disappeared, and instead it became possessed.

Seems like the possessed state combines the durability value of the weapon with the maximum HP of the monster. It's also the same with the attack power too.

Since this dagger is an initial equipment, it's practically an immortal item. Though, as it's an initial equipment, the attack power will also need to be considered.

Rena: [Next is your name, I guess.]

However, I don't have any naming sense nor something similar to that..... How should I do this?

Rena: fine then, your name will be Yamada-san.

(TL Note: A generic name in Japan)

Yamada: [?! ————! ————!]

It seems like I was being protested, but I ignored it quickly.

Name: [Yamada-san]

Race: [Living Dead Sword] | Level: [7]

Rena: [It has been successfully registered, I see.]

Yamada: []

I restart the exploration with a dagger that is currently floating with sorrow and wants to say [do you have no heart?].

Chapter 6 - Underground Tomb

Exploration 2

I went on for a while and found a treasure chest, but strangely I did not encounter any monster. From what I could remember, the maximum number of people in a party is six, including followers and summoning beasts. That is why, I would like to tame four more monsters, hence it's a problem if I can't see them at all...

Yamada: 何事か! 何事か!

Rena: 何? What's wrong, Yamada-san?

Yamada-san was acting strangely for some reason, and when I thought about what was going on...

Rena: 何事か! I see! So that's the cause!

I was attacked all of a sudden from the shadow of my feet. Isn't that dangerous?! Though, even if I'm angry, let's check my enemy for the time being.

Condition: Normal

Okay then, let's be satisfied with this for now as it's the second monster that I'm looking for.

If I remember correctly, Yamada-san has a night-vision skill, so he probably noticed it first.

Rena: □Now then, because it's a troublesome enemy that hides in the dark, I will rely on you, Yamada-san.□

Yamada: □□□□□!□

The hilt shakes as wanting to acknowledge what I had asked and moved closer to it. Rather than going against it, he threw some thrusts towards the shadow with all his might.

Shadow: □Uuuu!□

Bingo. I then brought the torch around to isolate it with the other shadows and lock it in.

Rena: □Well then, it's better if you give up early, yes?□

As I slowly approached the shadow, I beat it up with a torch. Even this thing can also be beaten up, I see.

When it finally stopped moving, I activated □Tame□..... and it's a success. This is easier than Yamada-san.

Rena: □Now, let's check its status.□

Rena: For the time being, your name will be Kageyama-san

(TL Note: Kageyama means Shadow Mountain, it's an old generic name in Japan)

Kageyama: Uuuu?!

Rena: Kageyama-san, please quickly dive into my shadow

Kageyama: Uuuu...

He dived into my shadow but it felt like he was really reluctant about it.
Let's make him attack and support me with magic while I'm fighting in close range.

Name: Kageyama-san

Race: Shadow | Level: 7

Condition: Possessing

Oh? It's also regarded as Possessing to be in my shadow, I see?.....
Apparently, it seems that the player's HP and other stats are not shared.

However, he cannot be caught by skills such as presence detection. I won't know for sure if it's a high level detection skill, though....

In any case, for the time being, it's okay to say that it's still going well as I have already explored this deep and tamed two monsters that I had been looking for. Let's continue forward with this pace!

Rena: □Okay then, let's resume our journey, Yamada-san, Kageyama-san□

Yamada & Kageyama: □□.....□□

They barely responded to me, I see..... Well that's fine, let's go ahead anyway.

Chapter 7 - Underground Tomb Exploration 3

Rena: □Well then, please take care of me from now on, okay?□

Azabu-san is possessing my initial cloak.

I asked him the same thing as Kageyama-san, that is to protect me and be vigilant on my back.

Rena: □Because this has become more lively, how about I choose new support skills as well?□

I still have extra skill points, so what should I pick?

Because the night vision skill can be acquired by my own effort and Yamada-san and the others are here too, would it be possible to buff everyone here? If so, these look good.

□Consumed 3 SP to gain new skills : Encouragement□

□Consumed 3 SP to gain new skills : Command□

□Encouragement□ and □Leadership□ are both skills that will raise the status of allies in the party when in battle, while □Command□ is a skill that can give instructions to followers and summoned beasts without speaking aloud.

I have selected and purchased the skills that seem to be easy to use.

At the same time, let's also purchase resistance skills that is difficult to get with my own effort.

□Consumed 5 SP to gain new skills : Physical Resistance□

□Consumed 5 SP to gain new skills : Magic Resistance□

□Consumed 5 SP to gain new skills : Physical Abnormality Resistance□

□Consumed 5 SP to gain new skills : Mental Abnormality Resistance□

This seems to be alright.

It's about 29 SP in total but it's a necessary expenses. Now then, let's proceed ahead.

————— Oh? I heard footsteps while I was hunting some monsters. All the monsters in this area are floating or dragging their legs like the zombies, but conversely, these footsteps are loud, hence none of them could apply to this. Besides, these footsteps belong to humans or something similar... Is it another player?

For now, let's erase my presence and sounds as much as possible while being cautious.....

Rena: □.....□

I see, seems like they're at the other side of that corner. I could also hear their voices.

Let's kill them immediately if they look like players after seeing them a little bit.

Hannes: □Shit! I still can't forgive that asshole!□

Ryne: □Calm down Hannes, there's no point in getting angry now, right?□

Hannes: □But, you know! What's up with that girl!? She suddenly killed the Tutorial NPC, performed PKs, and even took a child as a shield, isn't that fucked up!?!□

My name is Hannes□□□of course, this is my player name□□□I'm really furious as the event that had occurred a couple of hours ago still influenced strongly within me.

The one who caused my anger appeared suddenly in the middle of players, with the same outfit as the beginners□□□in fact she was the same like them□□□approached the Tutorial NPC and killed him just like that.

He was an NPC that took care of us from the beta version. He was really popular as he had a friendly character that won't change in any way towards us players and could also take consultation. Thus, it was a given that we were taken aback by it.

But there wasn't that much time to spare..... because, in a short time, she killed the players around him, and thus the place was thrown into a whirlpool of chaos.

Even so, there were still people who moved and tried to capture or defeat her quickly, and I was also one of them.

We successfully surrounded her at the expense of an acquaintance from the beta version.

After I thought that it will be over with this, it had already turned into a chaotic development.

Even with this, I had confidence in my gaming skills. However, my axe was easily dodged, and with that spare amount of moment, I took a headshot from the thrown dagger and respawned. I'm still furious even to this day□□□!!!!

Cherry: □I also think that person is bad...□

Hannes: □Right!? See, Ryne! Cherry also thinks like that, aren't you her childhood friend? You don't have anything to say to someone that was killed right in front of you with the kid that she was trying to help?□

Ryne: □Even I'm frustrated, but there's no point in saying this now, right? It's because she's nowhere to be seen for now, we can resume on advancing the game like this□

Hannes: □That's true, but still...□

Eleanor: "Yes yes, let's stop it right there. You could continue it after this pursuit is over, okay?"

It's the magician, Eleanor, who intervened and said so. It's true that there's no point in saying it right now just like what they said... but I think that, Eleanor at that time looked like a demon or maybe a mountain wit... I'm not thinking anything, I'm not thinking so please stop looking at me with such eyes.....

Hannes: "My bad, I got too hot-headed there, forgive me..."

Ryne: "No, it's okay, I could also understand the pain"

Kellin: "Yeah you know it! My neck was bent backward and snapped! That was a trauma for me..."

Myra: "...I also thought that my heart would stopped when my arrow pierced that child."

Certainly, it's not only me, both the spear-user Kellin and the archer Myra also had a bitter experience too, yeah...

Especially, Kellin... He was really pitiful.... He still has a faraway look on him ever since...

Hannes: "Everyone... Alright! Let's be the first group to clear this area! We won't lose next time!"

Ryne: "Yeah, the next time we meet, for sure..."

Rena: "...Good afternoon, please don't get too careless in a place like this."

When I thought that I could hear the voice of an unfamiliar woman, a dagger was stuck on Eleanor's neck, and Cherry's head had just fallen in the back....

Chapter 8 - Underground Tomb

Hannes: □Y-YOU BASTAAAAAAAAAAAAARRDD!!!!□

I swung my axe on impulse. I need to unleash even if it's just a little of this furious emotion towards that detestable one who was right above me□□□ moved her body sideways□□□mowed down□□□backstep□□□went over me□□□swung her body diagonally to behind me□□□and slashed with her dagger□□□then she dodged with a backflip.

Even though this is a narrow passage, this got to be some kind of a joke!!!

Hannes: □This bastard!!□

Ryne tried to step in, but□□□

□□□Gakiin□□□!!!

□□□His long sword was repelled by a thrown dagger.

Ryne: □Hannes! Calm down! Cooperate with us!□

Hannes: □!! A-aah, yeah, that's right.□

Shit! Because that bastard suddenly killed our two comrades, it made my blood boil instantly... even though I knew that we cannot win if we lose our temper here.

...But, it doesn't mean that the reason why we need to cooperate together in this narrow passage is because of how weak we are. We got a benefit from the beta version whereas we could instantly jumped to level 15 which was the maximum at that time and got half the skills level. Hence, as top players, we have our own ability and dignity□□□!!!

Hannes: □.....fuuh!□

Gradually, bit by bit, we attacked cooperatively and chased after her!

Kellin relentlessly aimed his spear at her foot and made a move towards her while Ryne aimed at her head to distract her and block her line of sight with his bladework. Then, when her movement stops... No, If I could get just a slight gap, I will strike her with my hammer□□□!!!

Kellin: □Shi-!□

Ryne: □Fu!!□

Hannes: □Oraaa!!□

Rena: □.....□

Fuck! We didn't even scratch her! Is this still useless?! There are three people in a narrow passage, though?!

She evaded Kellin's spear as if she was dancing along with it, or rather, she sometimes aimed for his neck while she stepped on the spear and threw off her balance. Ryne's blade was also dodged by her with only moving her head without looking at him. It goes without saying my large axe was.....

Hannes: □Fucking shit!!□

Ryne: □You monster...□

I cursed along with Ryne unconsciously... but it can't be helped if you look at this situation due to the fact that we can't even get a single hit on her!

However, we are not just struggling with her here. Slowly but steadily we lead her□□□

Rena: □□□□!!□

Myra has shot an arrow.

She's still stuck with us even when we can't get a hit, and the arrow is coming from behind her, which is a blind spot for her.

This distance is Myra's kill zone. It will pierce from the back of her head and she will have an instant death, serves her right! When I was halfway convinced about her death□□□

Rena: □.....Ah? thank you very much.□

Hannes: □□□□Huh?□

It was then that she fell on her back as if she was pulled by something, and the arrow passed by as it is and pierced through Kellin's head as the end result... and I can only think about Kellin's stunned look when he respawned.

———How can she avoid it?

———Does she also have eyes on her back?

I know that is not the case, but I was very shocked and stiffened with my eyes wide-opened as I was sure and confident that it was a certain result.

We were stunned for just about a few seconds, but in that meantime, she was already approaching straight towards Myra.

Myra: □.....kh!□

Mira shot her arrows continuously towards her approaching opponent. However, all of the arrows were deflected with a dagger.

I, as well as Ryne returned to our senses after hearing that sound and start running, but it was already too late...

Myra's throat was pierced from the front and lost all of her HP.....

Ryne: [aaaaaaaAAAAAAAAAAHH!!!!!!!!!!!!!!]

Hannes: [Ryne! Wait!]

Seeing that, Ryne, who had been rebuking me up until now, desperately rushed in on his own.

Hannes: [Fucking piece of shit!!]

With that, I also tried to charge in, but[][]

Rena: [Well yes... it was fun in its own way, you see?]

She pierced my throat while smiling and I lost all of my HP.

By the time I was about to respawn, I felt mortified due to the fact that I was captivated by her smile....

Ending with her smile, my view was temporarily darkened, and by the time I opened my eyes, I was in the temple and spotted my party members who has a gloomy atmosphere around them as if this is a funeral..... As expected, I wasn't captivated by her! Like hell I will admit it!

There won't be any next time! When we find her, we will definitely win!

Thus, I suggested an evaluation meeting with the depressed party members and made a new oath[][]

Especially Azabu-san, you were active without even a single delay. Therefore, I will give you a flower circle (Hanamaru).□

(TL Note: Flower circle is equivalent to a gold star that was awarded to children for their good work at school)

Azabu: □.....! (bassa bassa!)□

Rena: □Ufufu, are you happy with that? I see, that's good.□

In fact, I could not dodge the arrow at the end if it had not been for Azabu-san. Nevertheless, the monsters did not use any magic, so is it not the best outcome?

Rena: □I see no problem with our battle there, hence let's aim to conquer this area while taming another target monsters!□

Azabu: □.....! (bassa bassa!)□

Fufu, they're somehow pretty cute. Let's go steadily with this condition.

Chapter 9 - Underground Tomb

Exploration 5

We kept on exploring deep down and found a somewhat hidden room.
Hmm..., from the gist of it, it seems to be locked from inside.

I don't have any unlocking skills so... how do I do this? should I purchase it?

Kageyama: □UuuU□□

Rena: □Oya? What's wrong, Kageyama-san?□

Kageyama-san went out of my shadow for a moment and slipped in through the gap of the hidden room's door. Then, a few moment had passed and I heard a □Gachaa□ sound from inside. But, is this fine...? Probably yes....

Rena: □Thank you very much, Kageyama-san□

Kageyama: □Uu!□

I thanked Kageyama-san who had just returned to my shadow, and we went inside the hidden room. The inside is not very large and the only thing that is present is a slightly luxurious treasure chest.

Rena: □This seems suspicious, yes...□

No matter how you look at it, this is obviously a trap, but let's try to open it as we can't advance without even checking it first.

Rena: □Now then, will it be demons or rather snakes that come out...□

I gently reached out to the treasure chest and it suddenly moved and tried to bite my hand.

Rena: □! That's dangerous, indeed...□

I immediately backstepped and took some distance from the monster while seeing the popup over its head.

Race: □Mimic□ | Level: □13□

A mimic, I see?

It's not a monster that I'm looking for but, I could try to tame it and still have one spare slot left in the party.

Rena: □Okay then, let's try to give it a painful experience.□

The level is a bit higher than us so let's turn it into a sandbag for Yamada-san and the others.

▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼

Rena: □From here on your name will be Santa-san□

Hoho, he's also very... Oya? I understand with mimicry but, □Treasure Possession□? This is a pleasant miscalculation but, is there any treasure-like item that I brought with me...?

Ah, speaking of which, there should have been an expensive-looking necklace which I had received from the Temple's Bishop that time.

Rena: □Would this be good?□

Santa: □Gaa!□

He possessed it without problems, I see.

I wear it on my neck and equipped it as an accessory.

.....oh, this necklace unexpectedly has a nice effect, as expected from the Bishop.

She's truly a role model for every priests as she still give charity to the people even when she's dead.

Rena: □Well, it seems there's only one slot left.□

The last one should be a rare one, hence it might take some time to find it... Though, it's better to conquer this area first and then search for it later, so let's go with ease.

As it's a high-leveled humanoid-type monster, I can't do the same as the previous four.

Rena: □Let's go from here.□

Whilst the other party didn't make a move, I lowered my posture and plunged in, tackled its waist and brought it down perfectly.

Then, I inserted my dagger into the gap between the back of the elbow and the back of the knee to dismantle it. I bashed it with the dagger's hilt when it had just turn into a daruma doll. Kageyama-san pinned it down from the shadow and Azabu-san perturbed its balance with wind magic.

(TL Note: Daruma.)

Living Armor: □□□□iiiIII! IIIiiiIII!□

.....? I don't understand a single word from it.

For the time being, I tried to activate □Tame□... but it's a failure, I see?

I, then tied and hung the living armor up with a rope and gave some hits while roasting it on top of the torch. It's probably best to just wait around three minutes, I guess?

Living Armor: □□□□iiII! □□IIIiiiIII!□

Three minutes had passed and I activated □Tame□ again... This time, it was a success, that's good.

If it had failed, I can just put the torch inside the living armor and drag it around until we reach the boss room, though.

Splendid.

Let's charge into the boss room as it is.

Rena: Now then, let's aim towards the boss room while we team up

They responded in unison. It's good to have some motivation, hence let's continue capturing just like this.

Chapter 10 - Underground Tomb

Exploration 6

Now then, I'm currently standing in front of perhaps the so-called boss room. It was truly a long journey.

It really took quite some time as I had lost my way and occasionally encountered monsters and other players... The treasure chests only had shabby items and turned out they were mimics....

Should I log out once after the boss battle is over? Will my karma value be removed at the inn? Could I use my camouflage skill? That is why, I had picked up the [Friendship] skill, actively communicated with my followers and raised our levels to anticipate these kind of things. It's good if it turns out just fine.....

It will be a boss battle from now on and I have also equipped other equipments that were dropped besides the light armor which is being possessed by Inoue-san. I'm a little bit uneasy if I'm only wearing my initial equipment for the battle, you see.

However, as I thought, after killing that much, the dropped equipments were only these things. Is the drop rate that low?

I'm a little anxious when I think that it will be difficult to use the town facilities from now on, but... well, it should be fine if I kill or threaten them and snatch it away, though.

Rather than that, I need to focus on the boss first.

Rena: [Let's go...]

I opened the heavy door in front of me and advanced.

▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼

The room beyond the door is wider than I thought. the ceiling is also high and I could see caskets hanging on the wall in my view range.

Is this just like the name, Underground tomb, suggests?

Rena: "Oya?"

There's something in the middle of the room, yes? Could that be the boss?

It's a skeleton that has subtle skin and flesh and equipped with a tattered black overcoat and an ominous long sword on its hand...it started moving, I see...

Entering combat stance.

Race: "Everlasting Tomb Keeper" | Level: "25"

Condition: "Cursed"

.....It's a high level one, I see?

Even if I have followers with me, it's still substantially called as solo. Hence, it's better to be prepared for a hard fight... it was good that I had loot some potions from the town (seriously).

Rena: "Here we go everyone!"

Everyone: "!!"

I kept aiming at the boss and charged in. Of course, the skeleton is also attacking with its long sword, though I had managed to evade and tried to aim for its neck, but...

Rena: □Guuh!!□

□□□it put a knee to my stomach while I was moving my neck to avoid the slashes.

What a blunder.

I used my kick as a momentum to move backwards while throwing some unnecessary things, but... well, it was repelled as expected.

Rena: □Kicking a girl's stomach...□

—————I will absolutely disassemble you!!!

I charged in again to a point-blank range and my dagger that is on my right hand was stopped from its lower left side. It was blocked by the long sword that was handed over to another hand with a backhand grip and the skeleton did a half turn. I went around to the other side and put a kick on the back of its knee.

Rena: □Fuh!□

Skeleton: □□□□□□

Kakunnn!

I aimed at its neck when it fell behind while putting its knee in front□□□ but, it twisted its body and I only managed to slice its thigh.

It had evaded by moving its right leg and tried to turn around and kill me, but I tumbled and dodged it.

———Dodge and dodge and dodge and dodge.

Our position changed constantly. We waved our blade while dodging each other's by a thin layer of paper.

I do not know which direction it would come anymore as we kept clashing into each other and strike for fatal hits from left to right.

I lowered my posture for the incoming long sword and plunged my dagger into the skeleton's flank while sliding around. The skeleton laid back to dodge and switched its weapon to the other hand and swung the sword down□□□the sword met the blade of the dagger and clashed at the same time as it had scattered sparks of iron.

I moved to an extremely close distance, grabbed the skeleton's jaw and slammed it against the floor□□□just before it reach the floor, it tried to somersault but I put a kick on its face alongside Santa-san's light magic □Photosphere□ violent explosion.

It looks to be its weak attribute as I thought.

I could now finally gave a valid strike as it seems that this AI didn't think that I could use magic.

Skeleton: □.....□

I asked Azabu-san to cast wind magic from the skeleton back who is currently on alert and takes a few distance from me.

All of a sudden, the skeleton was blown off as Azabu-san let out □Gust□ from its behind. From there as well I charged in and carried out a head-to-head collision.

I sliced and cut the skeleton's waist which was bent from the back, at the same time with Santa-san's light magic.

I swung my dagger towards its upper body that has fallen to the ground and cut of its arms.

Rena: □This should be okay from here on out.□

Katakata!!

Oya? The lower body and arms that I had cut are still moving? Is it because it's an undead? Well that's fine. If it's coming towards here, I can just disassemble it as I had originally planned before.

First, I grabbed the lower body that was approaching and slammed it to the ground. When it didn't move to a certain extent, I removed its joints and broke it apart.

As one would expect, it should not move with only one bone.

The lower body has become completely silent just as planned, and I also applied the same treatment to the arms.

Rena: □Now then, have you prepared yourself?□

Skeleton: □.....□

.....though, I don't know whether it's being silent or just couldn't speak.

For the time being, I removed the bones from its spine one by one.

Hee~ there are also small bones even to this far, I see... This is interesting.

How about we earnestly study about human body? I know how to break it somehow but I don't know the theory behind it because it was not a major subject for me either.

Wait, the boss's HP continues to decrease at a tremendous pace when I noticed it. By any chance, is this perhaps also judged as a part of destruction?

If so, how long would it last?

Rena: □Please do your best to endure it, okay?□

Skeleton: □□□□!□□□□!□

It finally had some kind of reaction, but forgive me.....it won't be that fun.

Rena: □Perhaps this is where the spinal cord or cerebrospinal fluid passes? The ribs are not consisted of six bones, I see...□

I continued dismantling while observing it, but it disappeared along the way.

I still wanted to play, but it's unfortunate.....yes, truly unfortunate.

Nevertheless, it might be good to be the first one to conquer this area.

The magic circle that has appeared in the center of the room will transfer me outside.

I will log out for today after I go back to the town and lodge at an inn.

This has been a long time for my first day.

Rena: □Ah yes, before that...□

Let's change the color of my hair with the camouflage skill.

This is a precaution as there are a lot of various people who played the game.

At the same time, I moved Azabu-san's possession from the ordinary cloak to the dark cloak.

Rena: □This looks alright. Okay, shall we go back?□

I then went to the transfer circle and logged out after staying in an inn at the town.

LOL

Speaking of which, how far have we advanced currently?

282. Resting Adventurer

>> 276
F-found a pervert!!

283. Resting Adventurer

>> 281

If I'm correct, the top groups,

Hannes and Harold's party: Underground Tomb on the north side of First Town

Kevin and Nicholas's party: Forest on the south side of First Town

Cecil's party: Western Meadow

Mikaela, Gustav and Sherra's party: Eastern Mine

I guess?

The conquer status is similar everywhere. If we talk about their strength, the west side is slow but the east side's pace is fast probably?

Well, I might have some mistakes about this, and they also said that half portion of every sites have been conquered.

284. Resting Adventurer

>> 276

is a genuine pervert gentleman, no doubt.

285. Resting Adventurer

>> 283

Thanks!

Hee~, half portion of them have already been conquered, huh... It's still the second day of service, though?

They are doing it well indeed... Especially the Underground Tomb where countermeasure for dark and sudden attack is required.

As expected of the conquer teams.

286. Resting Adventurer

>> 276

People like him were taken away by the guards lol, disappointed.

>> 283

How come they are so fast?

287. Resting Adventurer

>> 285

Yeah, if you go to the Underground Tomb and set the depiction setting to Real-life Basis, your nose will die.

288. Resting Adventurer

>> 286

All of them came from the beta and were handed over some of their data, you know?

Those who played the beta version can take over half of their previous base level and skill level as a bonus. So, those who raised his/her level in the beta version to 30 will be a level 15 from the beginning, you see...

I don't know about the skills level, though. It's probably already high too from the start.

289. Resting Adventurer

>> 288

Hee~, Thx!

Thanks to the top group's information, the players here can enjoy playing.

Kudos for them!

290. Resting Adventurer

There's a dangerous girl at the plaza, though...

(TL Note: Japanese "guy/girl (Yatsu)" doesn't have a gender so this "girl" is genderless for now)

291. Resting Adventurer

>> 283

Harold party's girls are all pretty, right?

292. Resting Adventurer

>> 289

Yeah, kudos for them!

293. Resting Adventurer

>> 290

Something happened?

294. Resting Adventurer

I was killed by a dangerous girl at the plaza....

295. Resting Adventurer

What? Was there something happening at the plaza?

296. Resting Adventurer

>> 293

>> 295

The peaceful fountain plaza was full of beginners just like yesterday, and I also took a break while watching the scene on the bench.

But then, the Tutorial Uncle's neck flew off suddenly.

When I realized, I was already dead and woke up in the temple.

297. Resting Adventurer

>> 296

Wait Wait Wait Wait! I didn't know any of that, though?

298. Resting Adventurer

>> 296

What do you mean.....?

299. Resting Adventurer

Is there anyone who can explain it in details?

300. Resting Adventurer

Okay then, fortunately, I survived and watched the whole incident. I will explain it so wait a moment.

301. Resting Adventurer

>> 300

You saved us.

302. Resting Adventurer

>> 300

wtkk

(TL Note: Waku waku teka teka / Excited)

303. Resting Adventurer

It's a bit long, though.

I was standing and chatting with my party members next to the stall on the other side across the fountain from where the Tutorial Uncle at. (By the way, I am also from beta)

We were joking around while seeing the newcomers flocking the Tutorial Uncle and said "Look! They are like trash piling up!"

Then we spent a few moments and a newcomer appeared. She somewhat looked around and walked towards the Tutorial Uncle. I was not worried about her because I thought "Aah, another newcomer, huh?", but then, when I believed she is talking with the Tutorial uncle, she decapitated the uncle with a dagger.

Everyone in the plaza had this (□д□) face.

304. Resting Adventurer

>> 303

That's a given! lol

305. Resting Adventurer

>> 303

Why are you still here? lol

Well, that's already a given... lol

306. Resting Adventurer

>> 305

Because I have some time before my respawn penalty is lifted....

Moving on.

So, knowing that everyone was making a (□д□) face, she then decapitated two players behind her and ran through the plaza while continued PK-ing. So yeah, everyone was confused as expected

Everyone's expression changed from (□д□) to □(□д□)□ in an instant.

We couldn't move right away.

But even if we could, the confusion was so great that we could not move immediately.

At that time, Hannes and Harold, who also happened to be in the plaza, started calling out. I thought that they were indeed top players as they tried to lead the players on the spot immediately.

307. Resting Adventurer

>> 306

What the hell... that's definitely a dangerous girl, right?

308. Resting Adventurer

>> 306

But there were two top parties, right?

It wasn't something to panicked about then, lol

309. Resting Adventurer

>> 308

You think so, right?

She first pierced Harold who was distracted with his calling out, sliced his neck and killed him.

Still, I was surprised by that, but when the remaining 11 people had surrounded her, we were half-convinced that it finally over for sure.

But from there, it became more chaotic. She quickly chose to escape and ran away. Furthermore, she killed NPCs and players along the way. To stop her, Myra from Hannes' party shot an arrow, and I had doubted my own eyes as that girl had grabbed an NPC's child to shield the arrow and threw him to the back.

310. Resting Adventurer

>> 309

What a brute lol

311. Resting Adventurer

>> 309

The embodiment of demon, lol

312. Resting Adventurer

>> 309

Harold was done?!

313. Resting Adventurer

Ryne and Cherry from Hannes' party rushed out to help the children, but she then turned around by using the child as a cover, stabbed Ryne together with the child and decapitated Cherry.

She went around Kellin who was distracted by it, twisted his neck and died.

After that, she stole the spear that Kellin had and threw it to the rear guard. It was a beautiful form seen from a bystander's perspective.

When the rear guard were dealing with the flying spear, Hannes swung his axe at her, but she evaded with somersault and tossed her dagger, landing an excellent headshot on Hannes.....

She then pretended to charge in again, only turned around and ran away to the south direction... The only two remaining vanguards were trying to protect the rear guard and gathered around them, so she managed to escape.....

Of course, while running away, she killed more NPCs and players without any distinctions.

314. Resting Adventurer

>> 313
Hiiieee!!

315. Resting Adventurer

>> 313
What do you mean by of course, hmm...?

316. Resting Adventurer

>> 313
Eeeh? Did the beginner just defeated the two parties from the conquer teams, with the vanguards almost wiped out...? You're not joking, right?

317. Resting Adventurer

>> 316

How good would it be if it was a lie or a dream..... Anyway, the main road from the plaza until the south of the town is in chaos right now.

318. Resting Adventurer

>> 317

Ahh, then this big search in the Southern Forest wasn't an event, huh? If something like that had happened, it surely would have made this much noise, yup...

319. Resting Adventurer

>> 318

Did that dangerous girl escape into the southern forest?

320. Resting Adventurer

>> 319

Maybe, I can't tell for sure because the two top parties, Kevin and Nicholas, who were also involved in this big search haven't found her yet.

321. Resting Adventurer

>> 320

Well, her opponents will be a large number of players including the top ones who have calmed down from the chaos and they are also in the forest that has not been conquered yet so it's probably going to be fine, right? Right??

322. Resting Adventurer

Even if that's a fact, I'm still worried.

323. Resting Adventurer

Wouldn't it be better for the conquer teams to join together?

324. Resting Adventurer

□Sad News□ The dangerous girl had killed the bishop, set a fire to the temple and escaped.

325. Resting Adventurer

327. Resting Adventurer

328. Resting Adventurer

>> 324
Aah, it's already in chaos...

329. Resting Adventurer

>> 324

So that's why the town guards and the temple knights ran in front of everyone with a terrible look...

330. Resting Adventurer

Geez, what's happening.....

331. Resting Adventurer

Somehow, the town's feudal lord is now leading the corps directly, though...

335. Resting Adventurer

Well, a soldier that was dispatched from the kingdom was killed, a massacre incident occurred in a plaza that should have been a place for relaxation, markets such as stalls were destroyed, an important person like bishop was killed, a temple was burned down, the guards were killed and wounded, and the city was on fire. In addition, these all happened during the day, so it can't be helped, right?

Hey-yo Jose!

(TL Note: It's a reference from Yugioh! Character, Giovanni who always said it like that. I don't know the specific reason for this (' 'ω' '))

561. Town Adventurer

First, about casualties.

NPCs: 87 dead town civilians, 274 wounded, 52 people missing

Players: 67 dead, 384 wounded, no people missing

Next, about building damage.

General residences: 58 collapsed, 78 damaged

Other buildings: Temple, monastery, orphanages, guardstations, Grand Merchant's branch office

If other damage such as market goods are also combined, seems like it will be twice the expected town budget for one year... In addition, according to the NPC peddlers testimony, they would likely avoid a town where such a big incident happened, hence including the future loss, it will become much more awful.....

Chapter 12 - Secret Maneuvers

Now then, as I have come back from school and finished various tasks, I can now log in to the game. A few days have passed since then, and I wanted to continue playing it as it was unbearable to withstand the urge for a couple of days.

Rena: □Good morning, I will go out for a bit.□

Inn Owner: □Y-yes...□

I greeted the inn owner but, she only looked at me and become frightened. Though, she gave a reply more or less...

You see, I was refused once when I tried to stay here on the first day. Hence I only removed her two fingers but, seems like she's completely scared of me now...

This is my task from now on, yes?

Now then, by the time I get out of the inn I need to activate my stealth skill in full power as I'm more or less a person who is on the wanted list.

I would like to take a stroll around the town for today as this is for the purpose of securing an escape route if things happened and also for □playing□ as well.

Looking back at the town once again, it looks to be an Eastern Europe-like town from the early modern times. Would it be better if I imagine it as someplace like Warsaw or Bucharest? The lord's manor looks like a Russian-type one as far as I could see but, for what reason?

I walked while looking at the exotic townscape.

I also have my followers to be on guard while my stealth skill is fully activated.

According to my observation, the town has no liveliness like the first day and the residents are looking gloomy. And above all, the guards are in a more awful looking...

It's still regarded as normal to see two guards in a group patrolling the town but, seems like they must be in a four-people group now. In addition to that, the frequency of patrolling is higher than before□□□There's no doubt that this is my fault.

I'm planning to go to the back alley to avoid the people's eyes.

I had given up on the first day, but as expected, it's better to remember the directions and record them on the map. There's no harm on doing that at least.

After entering the back alley, there's no dazzling feeling on the surface and the atmosphere is completely outlawish, which is very exciting, yes!

When I was walking and looking around restlessly□□□

Outlaw A: □Oooh, missy, are you lost?□

Outlaw B: □Do you want us uncles giving you the directions?□

Outlaw C: □We're nice people~!□

—————I got entangled with a group of three hoodlums; fatty, giant, and chibi. This is awful. The atmosphere from the back alley had enlivened me and made me neglect my stealth and presence detection. I have reflected...

Fatty: □Hey, say something.□

Giant: □Is she scared?□

Chibi: □Are you scared of us uncles?□□□□

Well, as the timing's just right, I will change today's schedule.

I decapitated the fatty and cut the legs of the remaining two so that they cannot escape from me.

Giant & Chibi: □Ah?□□

I then stepped on the Chibi-san's head and grabbed Giant-san's jaw and slammed it against the wall.

Giant: □GYAAAAAAAAAAA!□

Now that he can understand his situation, he immediately cried out in pain. Chibi-san's head is being trampled down currently, hence he's struggling to hear what the other is saying.

Rena: □You're a little noisy.□

With an idiotic Gakya sound, I dislocated Giant-san's jaw and returned it back again along side a Gakon sound.

Giant: □~~~~~!!□

I start my interrogation after it has become a little quiet.

Rena: □I have something to ask of you.□

Giant: □I-I understand! I will do anything! So please help me!□

Rena: □That's wonderful, now then, did anything change recently around here?□

Giant: □.....A-A few days ago, it seems that a big incident had occurred, and the unemployed people overflowed to the ghetto and the security turned bad everywhere!□

Rena: □I see.□

It seems like due to the influence of my act, the First Town was flooded with unemployed people and the security had gotten worse not only on the surface but also on the underground society.

Rena: □Is there anything else?□

Giant: □...The rising organization, Yagan Family has begun to expand their power by gathering outsiders and starting to force an expansion to the Moonlight Family, who are controlling the area here, and it seems like they are out in retaliation, hence the conflict between them is rising.□

I see, the underground society also has its own serious problem, yes~? Well, that doesn't matter for me.

Rena: □Now then, my final request. Please take me to this Moonlight Family.□

Giant: □...!! Wait! I can't do that! I will be killed if I guide someone like you!□

Rena: □...I see, that's a shame.□

I don't need this thing anymore as it doesn't seem to want to guide me there. I grabbed its jaw, fixed it and continuously poured oil into its mouth.

Giant: □~~!!! Gabhh!?!□

I let it eat the torch and set it on fire, it has turned into a perfect human bonfire, yes! It also has a high artistic point as the fire is also burning from the eyes. As expected of Giant-san.

Rena: □Well, Chibi-san, would you prefer to be killed here or later?□

I say so while putting my feet away from his head.

Chibi: □I-I UNDEESTHAND!! I WEILL GUIYDE YOU SO PWEASE~~□

Uwaah, being in tears while having a runny nose, that's dirty. I rubbed my shoe on the ground and wiped it away.

As promised, I hooked Chibi-san's nape to a pole and moved him as it is.

Rena: □Which way is it?□

Chibi: □DAT WHEY!□

Could you stop with your crying? You can't guide the way if you can't see. Though I can't slaughter him right now, would it be okay to cut off only his nose?

Junior: □Aniki! It's the lot from Yagan Family again! This time, it's magic drugs!□

Aniki: □Again!? How many times has it been now!?□

Fuck! Just my luck! I got a report from my subordinate in a tavern where I'm drinking right now which is a cover for our hideout.

Although I was recently promoted to a leader who are controlling this area, a big incident had occurred on the surface on the second day of my promotion and the number of people in the underground society increased in one go....

It's good if it was only that but, that Yagan bastard who absorbed the other people and expanding his authority, has been trying to pick a fight with us! Even though I was excommunicated and being quiet!

Aniki: □So, how's the damage?□

Junior: □Some people have been crippled and there are more than a dozen of people in the group who are seriously injured as well, you see...□

So there is less damage when it comes to magic drugs, huh?...or rather, the thing that's more problematic is□□□

Junior: □More than that, there's a chance that the lord's investigation will extend to this side.□

Aniki: □.....I know.□

Sheesh, doing it one after another... Even though the magic drug has been banned by the Continental Treaty as it had destroyed a once big kingdom before, won't it also be dangerous for us if they pulled out such a thing.

Aniki: □Don't let them escape this time, I will also tell the higher-ranked to give the permission to kill that Yagan bastard□□□□

Rena: □□□□□Good evening□? Could I bother you for a second?□

Aniki: □□□□□Who is it?□

Bang!

There was a loud door opening noise.

Geez, who was it? Who called a woman in this crucial time? This is not a brothel, you know? I tried to complaint while turning around—

Junior: □!! Big bro! Loran is...!!□

There stood a beautiful woman however, I also caught a bizzare glimpse of her hand which is currently grabbing the nape of Loran who had lost all of his limbs, a sewed nose, and had both of his eyes pierced.

I can't see the figure of Dan and Nosley who were with me but..... my expectation for this is slim.

Aniki: □You, are you Yagan's people?□

Rena: □? You're wrong, though?□

What? I was certain that they have finally come here to raid us, is it not that though?

Aniki: □Then, are you the lord's underling? Or maybe another family's spy?□

Rena: □Both are wrong, though?.....□

Aniki: □Then whose family did you come from and what do you want here!?!□

Fuck! Calm down, me. I know that I'm upset because my subordinates got done in but, let's calm down... If you think it normally, a woman who can kill three adults alone is abnormal so look closely at her attitude. I could see everyone who's in this place from a gap...we had already thought that far so I will signal my subordinates with my eyes. Each of them replied with a nod.

Rena: □You see, I have some business with Moonlight Family? or something's boss?□

Aniki: □Then you're in luck, I'm the boss of this place.□

Rena: □Is that so? I can not see you as someone like that, yes...□

This place boss is me, I'm not lying. It should be okay if I used it for gathering information.

Aniki: □Yeah, that's right. Follow me, I will hear your talk inside.□

Rena: □.....Well, that's fine.□

An honest to a fault woman came in without understanding her current situation□□□Stupid, it is already the end for you by the time you came to the center of the bar. After giving her tortures and knowing her background, I will sell her to a brothel later.

When I turned my back to the woman and advance to a certain extent, I gave a signal so that only my subordinates know.

Subordinate A: □Die!□

Subordinate B: □Prepare yourself!□

Subordinate C: □This is our grudge!□

My subordinates, who has been waiting around, finally began to attack the said woman simultaneously.

Aniki: □If your luck is bad, so does your head. it's bad for you to follow someone that honestly□□□□

———I said so while turning around and saw the heads of my three men flew and the arms of five men removed. In addition, the throats of three men were cut by a weapon and two men were thrown out of the bar.

Aniki: □□□□really, just my luck.□

Chapter 13 - Secret Maneuvers 2

□Level has increased□

□You have earned skill points□

Well then, how about I ask him again after this sudden attack, yes?

Rena: □Will you listen to me obediently this time?□

Aniki: □.....alright.□

He obediently nodded after I asked so while playing with the dismantled person who had attacked me just now. If you do that from the beginning, this won't have to take a lot of time, you know?

Rena: □Uwaah, you're surprisingly meek, I see...□

Aniki: □Please, just talk to me and make it as convenient as possible, and I'm asking you to stop torturing my men...□

Rena: □? Torturing? ...Well, alright. I will stop playing with him, so shall we talk?□

Aniki: □.....thanks.□

I was finally guided to the back room this time. Are they the escort of this Middle boss (Temp)? There are quite a few of them who are following us but, all of them are looking at me as if I'm a monster, aren't they?..... it makes me want to kill them because they remind me of my father.

Aniki: □.....You guys, don't look at the guests that much.□

Aniki's men: □□WE'RE SORRY!□□

As I thought, this is the best game I have ever played. This atmosphere really helps me a lot.

Aniki: □This is the place, come on in.□

Rena: □Sorry for disturbing.□

The place is located somewhere where you could just go straight from the back alley and passed through a location that is completely filled with a sense of cleanliness.

Aniki: □Sit there.□

Rena: □Alright, I will do so.□

Ooh, This feels as if I'm drowning... and suddenly a woman appeared and withdrew out of nowhere after placing the tea and sweets on the table.

The Moonlight Family's financial strength is reflected from this place. As expected, do antisocial forces still yield profit?

Aniki: □So, what do you want to talk about?□

Rena: □Would you like to become the Feudal Lord of this city?□

Aniki: □.....Sorry, I didn't hear you. Can you say it one more time?□

Oya? I thought I have told him properly....

Rena: □...Shall I cut you as well?□

Aniki: □W-wait a minute! I heard you! I heard you!□

I can't believe you suddenly joke like that.

Rena: □You're surprisingly a humorous person, yes?□

Aniki: □Haha! Right?□

But it seems he's not accustomed by saying so that much. He also has a twitching smile plastered on his face right now.

Aniki: □S-so, what's this about becoming the Feudal Lord? I want you to explain it in more detail.□

Rena: □Let's see. The truth is, I'm a wanted person, that is for causing a big riot on the surface world.□

Aniki: □.....so it was you (facepalm)....□

Rena: □Due to that reason, I couldn't go shopping at the surface world and I can't use the facilities either. two of my inn owner's fingers were already been sacrificed so that I could actually stay at her inn.□

Aniki: □.....□

Rena: □It's still fine if it's about □Playing□ but, I think it won't be that fun if the people have to be in such a bad mood, and my time would also be wasted as well.□

Aniki: □.....□

Rena: □Therefore, because of this occasion, I have thought that I should make a puppet that is convenient for myself, how is that sound?□

Aniki: □.....wait, I can't judge it by myself, so I can't decide right away. I know you're serious, but give me some time.□

Rena: □I see, that's unfortunate but I'll wait...However, the deadline will be next week.□

Aniki: □Alright.□

It seems that it will take some time for him.

He looks really reluctant about it but, thankfully he accept it.

Rena: □And there's one more.□

Aniki: □.....there's still something else?□

Rena: □Yes, there is. If possible, I wanted some good equipment and good medicinal tools and materials□

Aniki: □Take as much as you like in the basement.....□

Ohh! What a generous person! This is a great favor, yes?

Rena: □That is truly great, thank you very much.□

After saying so, I got up from my seat and immediately went straight there, but□□□

Aniki: □Wait a minute. let me tell you one last thing.□

Rena: □? What is it?□

Aniki: □While waiting for a week, where and what are you planning to do?□

Let's see, because I have nothing to do in those days, what should I do?

Rena: □Hmm..... Well, I could crush the Yagan Family, you see? Let's treat it as an advance payment.□

Aniki: □.....T-that's really grateful but, I haven't decide whether I would like to cooperate or not, you know?□

Rena: □.....You refuse?□

Eh? What? I thought it ended in a good mood but it was only me, huh... It's unfortunate, truly unfortunate, but□□□

Rena: □□□□□Let's hope for the next person after you.□

□□□I said so while brandishing my dagger.

Aniki: □W-wait a minute! I didn't say I won't cooperate, did I!? I'll talk over with the higher-ups so that I could absolutely work with you! So please!□

Rena: □As I thought you're not the boss after all, huh? Or rather, are you someone who had just been promoted? Well, I'm not interested if you will cooperate or not, though...□

Aniki: □I-I'm not lying!□

Rena: □I know, well that's fine.....One week, please look forward to it, yes?□

After saying so, I left the room and went straight to the underground warehouse to take all of the things that were stored in there and went back home.

The person who guided me to the underground warehouse had a twitching face but did not complain at all.

Let's log out around here for today. I will crush the Yagan Family tomorrow in parallel with raising the level of my Medicine skill.

Junior: □.....Aniki, is this fine? □

Aniki: □.....Can't be helped, You and I still don't want to die, right? □

Junior: □That's right but.....□

The other party that I had been talking to is now gone and I feel tired only because of her. My men are worrying about me when I lean on to the sofa.

I responded to all of them while discussing on how to tell this situation about the cooperation from her to the boss and the other leaders. Not long after, one of my men who was guiding that woman, came back.

Junior: □Aniki.....□

Aniki: □How was she?□

Junior: □She was humming in a good mood from beginning to end.□

Aniki: □.....is that so? I wish I could be like her.□

My stomach hurts because of her, you know.....

Aniki: □And? What did she take? You have confirmed it, of course? I want her information right now even if it's just a little bit.□

Junior: □That is.....□

Aniki: □.....What is it? Don't you dare say you forgot to check it, okay?□

He pressed a question to his men who is being evasive, while in annoyance.

Junior: □That's not it, it's.....□

Aniki: □What? Don't waste my time, quickly speak.□

Junior: □.....of it.□

Aniki: □Ha?□

Junior: □She took all of it.....□

Aniki: □.....What did you say? □

Junior: □Like I said, she took all of the things that is stored in the warehouse even the light bulbs and candlesticks, everything.....□

And so, I fainted because of too much stress. Please give me a break, geez.....

Chapter 14 - Secret Maneuvers 3

□□Medicine□ skill level has increased□

Now then, this should be good enough, yes?

Since then, I have been raising the level of my Medicine skill for the past two days but, should I go and kill Yagan Family now? I had already made a promise as well.

Rena: “Now then, I’ll be going now.”

Shopkeeper: “Yesh...”

The shopkeeper who has no front teeth left, saw me off when I said my greetings. He’s very pitiful to look at, indeed.

The reason for this is that I had a day when he didn’t return my greetings, so I pulled out all of his front teeth.

In any case, let’s head to the back alley.

Now then, according to the messenger from Moonlight Family who I happened to meet when I was in the middle of raising my level, it seems that the headquarters of Yagan Family is through this corner right over here.

Rena: “Ah, I’m sorry.”

I almost collided with a person at the corner. It will be an enemy area shortly, so I have to be careful.

Thug: “Wait, little missy, the area ahead is off limits for ordinary people.”

Rena: “Is that so? That’s troublesome, indeed...”

Hmmm, what should I do now? Should I kill him quickly?

Thug: “If you really want to pass then... hehe, you know it, right?”

Rena: “Ah, it’s already troublesome to begin with, so let’s kill him.”

Thug: “Aah? What□□□”

First, I cut off his limbs and turned him into a daruma doll. And then, I jammed explosive balls that I have created using Medicine skill, into his mouth before he makes any noise.

Let’s use a potion to stop the bleeding as it’s not interesting if he died along the way.

Thug: “~~~!?”

I lifted him up by twisting his body to a certain position so he cannot do any useless resistances. Thereafter, I did an approach run and threw him away with my Throwing skill to Yagan Family’s Headquarters.

He soared as if he was drawing a parabola□□□

Dogannn!!!

——— broke through the window and exploded. It looks just like disturbing a beehive...

That is obvious, yes?

I took advantage of this confusion and broke through. I decapitated the two gatekeepers who were turning their head, kicked the gate and ran through the people who passed by me at the front yard□□□It’s Search and Destroy.

Rena: “Sorry for intruding~”

I made a hole on the entrance by throwing an explosive ball and rushed inside. What lies beyond my sight was a large staircase that looks as if this is an entrance hall.

A lot of various people have appeared from many places, but that doesn't matter to me. I will go to the boss room according to the floor plan that was given by the Moonlight Family.

Enemy A: "This girl! Stop!"

Enemy B: "You are underestimating us, huh?!"

I was surrounded by some spears but I avoided all of it, or rather I grabbed one of the spear and pulled it towards me.

Enemy A: "!!!"

I shoved my blade into his throat as it is, killed him, and use him as a shield for the flying arrows.

Enemy Swordsman: "Diee!!"

I turned around to evade the long sword, grabbed his wrist and smash it.

Enemy Swordsman: "GAAH?!"

Since my opponent dropped his weapon, I took it and threw it to the archer on the upper floor. The sword then pierced the archer's head.

After that, I decapitated the previous swordsman who was full of openings and kicked his head towards the magician who is at the back.

Enemy Magician: "Gah!!"

I approached him at once while he was faltering and sliced his throat.

Enemy B: "Surround her! She's not an ordinary girl!"

Enemy C: "Are you Moonlight's pawn?!"

Is that correct? or is that false? Well, I will just give them a present by throwing their comrade's corpses instead of a reply.

Even if they try to avoid or intercept it, they still need to move, yes? Hence, I kept approaching them while doing so.

Enemy C: "Don't underes□□□"

I pierced my dagger into the screaming large man's mouth from his upper jaw into the back of his head, and ran up the stairs while carrying him as a shield.

On the same time, I threw the axe that the large man once had, and the head of the woman who is at the farthest place□□□and might be a priest class□□□was cut in half.

Enemy Archer: "D-don't come!!"

The deranged archers sporadically shot some arrows but it was all shielded by the large man's body. I kicked the spearman's crotch who came charging in and pierced his philtrum.

I then crushed his head when he fell down and jumped to evade the pincer attack from the dagger users at the same time. I threw the large man's corpse to the archer while in mid air and used the both of my freed hands to ride on the dagger user's shoulder. I inserted my dagger into his neck from the side, rotated my hand that was grabbing his shoulder and□□□beheaded him.

While I was falling to the ground due to gravity, I also inserted my blade into the head of another dagger user as well, twisted it and then pulled it out.

Enemy D: "...a monster....."

Enemy E: "Hiiii!"

.....Could you not see me with such eyes?

Rena: “I’m annoyed now...”

Enemy D & E: “”!!!””

I don’t want to □Play□ with them anymore so I will just kill them.

I pierced the stiffened individual’s eyes through his brain with my fingers.
While I’m at it, let’s slam him against the floor and crush his head as well.

Enemy F: “R-run away!!”

Enemy G: “WAAAH!!”

Rena: “I won’t let you escape, you know?”

I closed their escape path with Santa-san’s light magic, □Holy Wall□, weaved their feet with Kageyama-san and the other’s shadow magic,
□Shadow Weave□, sliced their throat with Azabu-san’s wind magic, □Wind Blade□, swung Yamada-san□□□as a dagger□□□and annihilated my enemies.

A few minutes later, the entrance hall was smeared with only liquid that smells like a lump of meat and iron.

Rena: “...Shall I finish this quickly?”

My business here is over, thus I left the place and head towards the room where this Family’s boss is.

Chapter 15 - Secret Maneuvers 4

Enemy: “Boss! Please hurry up! The battle won’t wait for you!”

Yagan: “I know! I just need to do this first!”

Fuck! Even though we were doing well until now, how did this happen?! What is happening?!

Since that shitty old man tried to make Moonlight Family surrender, they have been aiming for a chance to get revenge against us.

We should have been secretly shaving away Moonlight Family’s territory little by little and abducting their members without carelessness nor gaps and successfully taking over their family! Heck, we even captured one of their leaders as well!

We were able to expand our power further with the help of the recent incident in the city. What we have to do left should only be continuing our expansion while doing skirmishes and attacking their headquarters when we see an opening!! But how come it’s not going that well?!!

Yagan: “Alright! Let’s escape!”

Is the enemy from Moonlight, or is it the lord’s vanguard who we have misjudged? I don’t know either way, but in any case, when I turned around after getting the confidential account book, documents and some precious metals□□□

Rena: “Where are you going?”

———A woman stood close while grabbing the head of my close aide who was on my side not too long ago.

“There are skills that have reached a certain level. Evolution is possible.”

□Level has increased□

□You have earned skill points□

□Karma value has fallen□

□All existed skills level has increased□

□There are skills that have reached a certain level. Evolution is possible.□

□□Kageyama-san□’s level has increase□

□□Azabu-san□’s level has increase□

□□Santa-san□’s level has increase□

□□Inoue-san□’s level has increase□

With this, Yagan Family’s headquarter is now gone and my task will be over when their branches are destroyed in these remaining days, yes?

Rena: “Everyone as well, thank you for your hard work. Especially Azabu-san and Inoue-san who have been extremely helpful in assisting my actions indirectly, I’m very grateful to you.”

Yamada: □□□□□!□

Kageyama: □Uuu!□

Azabu: □...! (Bassabassa!)□

Santa: □Gaa!□

Inoue: □liii!□

Rena: “Fufu, it’s wonderful when everyone seem to be in full spirit, yes?”

Well then, let’s explore this building and look for something good before we return, and once that’s over, I will log out for today.

Now then, the promised one week has passed, yes? In that meantime, I had completely destroyed Yagan family by the end of the day. All of the top leaders’ heads that are on the list have already been salted, so with this, there won’t be any complaint from them.

Rena: “Pardon the intrusion~”

I went into the bar in the back alley where I stopped by a week ago, however... everyone was very surprised when they saw me.

Aniki: “So it’s you, huh?.....This way, follow me.”

Rena: “Understood.”

He’s from before, I see?

I will be obedient and follow him just like he said.

We first went out from the back door, then we entered a building in a narrow alleyway, went up to the second floor and to the roof of the opposite building. We were in that building for a short time as we entered the same building again. When I thought that we will go up to the second floor again, we instead went downstairs to the basement where I could see a door in my vision.

Rena: “...it’s surprisingly complicated, I see?”

Aniki: “Because we have some envious things, you see.”

He opened the door and we went inside. I was then taken to the back and arrived in front of a remarkably luxurious room.

Aniki/Eren: “Boss, it’s Eren! I have brought the woman that I have told you.”

Boss: “.....Come in.”

This person is Eren-san, I see? I just realized that this is the first time that I know him.

There was reply with a refined voice after Eren-san called out to the inside of the room. Obeying so, Eren-san opened the door and went inside. I then entered the room following him.

Boss: “...Is that the woman?”

Eren: “Yes, that’s right.”

It looks like he’s appraising me but I don’t dislike it. It’s at least a proof that he’s trying to see my value, yes.

Moonlight Leader: “Hmm, you’re just scared because you have only become a leader, aren’t you? You don’t have enough guts.”

Boss: “...Is that so?”

There’s still someone who’s being noisy, but it can’t be helped as I have heard that the Yakuza people value honor. They are creatures that always try to look good towards the nobles and will die if they are not mounting them.

Moonlight Leader: “Troubling the boss and us with only a single woman, how about I kill this woman, th□□□”

Boss: “□□□□stop it.”

Moonlight Leader: “.....Boss?”

Oya? Somehow this boss-san stopped him when it was about to become a disturbing scene. Though, if he did not stop him, I will only separate that person's head from his torso.

Boss: "Don't try to do anything to her, she's not human."

Moonlight Leader: "...If the boss says so, I will obey."

He said so and stopped what he was about to do. Apparently, the boss here is very well received by his subordinates.

Boss: "How long are you going to stand there? Sit right over there and let's talk."

Rena: "Well then, pardon me."

As expected the sofa is soft and fluffy. Then, as if the time where we sit is a signal, a beautiful woman comes and leaves only to put down the tea and snacks on the table. I am impressed by how well-educated she is.

Boss: "So, what do you want to talk?"

Rena: "Have you not heard it from Eren-san?"

Boss: "I want to hear it from your mouth."

I see, it's no wonder, yes? If he doesn't hear it from that person's mouth, he'll just pretend to know nothing.

Rena: "I think you already know that I'm someone who is currently on the wanted list. Hence, I'm suffering from the inconvenience. It doesn't matter that I can't walk around in the city but, it's troublesome that I cannot use the facilities."

Boss: "And you want us to become the feudal lord?"

Rena: "Yes, that's right."

Boss: “There are some things that would be impossible to handle by accepting your request. We can’t simply say that it can be dealt easily and even if we become the top, our next enemies would be the punitive forces from the kingdom, you know? What will you do about that?”

It’s a relief that he can think properly, yes? With this, there won’t be any sign of agreeing immediately here.

Rena: “First, kill all of lord’s children and his wife. After that, we will make Eren-san to be the successor by saying that he’s the lord’s illegitimate child. In short, politically speaking, it should be okay as it’s already good if he can usurp the family head title.”

Boss: “Do you think it would work that well?”

Rena: “It will be alright as I will carry out everything here. It’s already good enough if your people can provide the supplies, handle the various things after the usurpation, and plan to take the lord’s advantage. If by any chance you failed to do so, it doesn’t matter if you pretend to not know anything.”

Boss: “Fumu...”

It’s fine if you failed either way~

Even if the punitive forces come, it would only be a reward for me as I can rush into them.

It will also be interesting as well to earnestly continue to kill the commander, don’t you agree?

Boss: “...I feel like it will be even more problematic if I leave you alone. Alright, let’s cooperate.”

Rena: “Is that so? Thank you very much.”

I was able to get their cooperation safely. That’s excellent.

Boss: “...You did say that you are going to destroy Yagan Family before, right? Is that the boss’ head over there?”

Rena: “? Do you mean this?”

Having said that, I put the salted Yagan’s head on the table and everyone made a stupid facial expressions similar to the ones that died back then. Is there something wrong with this thing?

Boss: “.....”

Moonlight Leader: “No way, she really...”

Eren: “My stomach hurts, where’s stomach medicine again?”

Eren-san is searching for a stomach medicine while the surroundings turn astir. Will he be alright? He said his stomach is hurting, yes? Though, he didn’t look like he’s hurting before.....

Boss: “.....you stupid child.”

Eren: “Boss.....”

Boss: “Yes, it’s certainly Yagan’s head. We have gotten our advance payment so we promise to cooperate with you.”

Rena: “Is that true? That’s wonderful.”

Boss: “What will you do after this?”

Rena: “I will take a temporary break for today. I will finish the minor preparation tomorrow and act the day after tomorrow.”

Boss: “You’re surprisingly impatient, huh? Alright, I understand.”

Rena: “Well then, if you’ll excuse me.”

Boss: “Eren, go escort her.”

Eren: “.....Yes.”

I was then guided by Eren-san to the road where we came from and returned to the inn after separating with him at the bar and logged out.

Chapter 16 - Carry Out

Now then, it has been two days since the meeting with Moonlight Family's boss and today is the day for carrying out the plan.

I had also finished the minor preparation yesterday so let's do a final check on my status as well, yes?

▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼ ▼

Feudal Lord: "Sigh..."

I can only do nothing but sighing from my mouth. The cause of this is something from about half a month ago.

It was the day after the migrants surged in with great numbers just like the oracles said... The day when that tragedy happened.

Subordinate: "...Your excellency, why don't you rest for a little while?"

Feudal Lord: "Muh, I can't do something like that."

Not good, I've even made my subordinate worried about me as well. As a person who is standing on top, I have to act more grandly and keep my calm even if I'm anxious about something....

Feudal Lord: "In any case, you still haven't found the culprit yet, knight captain?"

Knight Captain: "Yes, we had been searching for the culprit with everything we have, but we only manage to found out that the culprit's gender is a woman and has a black hair...."

Feudal Lord: "I have known about that and she even killed the bishop, Chronos-dono as well. The temple had been pressuring me really hard about this...."

Even without that, it hurts for me to see Chronos-dono got killed both individually and as a lord.

Chronos-dono was a man of character who even though he had climbed up to the Cardinal position, he still moved to this remote region and started again as a bishop to save a large number of people. I heard that there are many people in the capital who worship Chronos-dono and had been taken cared by him.

He treated everyone indiscriminately, and he was like a walking library due to his knowledge... I was also taken care of when I just inherited the feudal lord position....

And to top it all off, Bishop Chronos was the sole revival magic user in this remote region. The death of that person is synonymous with the loss of a thousand lives of the ordinary people, and that loss is immeasurable....

Knight Captain: "But, we had been working non-stop since that day. The soldiers below are also worried about Your Excellency's health, so why not take a rest for at least a cup of tea?”

Feudal Lord: “However.... nevermind, let’s go with that.”

Knight Captain: “I see.....”

When I said that I would like to rest, the Knight Captain, Alexei Vallenge□□□my son□□□blatantly released a sigh of relief.

This damn boy.

Feudal Lord: “You should sit down as well.”

Alexei: “But.....”

Feudal Lord: “It’s fine, don’t you want to hear your miserable father’s idle complaints?”

Alexei: “That’s..... I understand, father.”

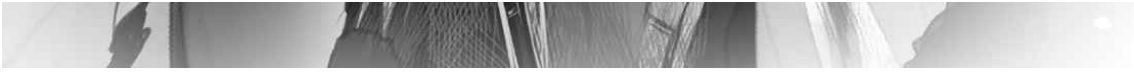

Let’s throw away the lord and retainer mask and spend time as parent and child in this short amount of time.

Feudal Lord: “So, how is it? Have you found a good partner?”

Alexei: “Father, that is.....”

Feudal Lord: “If you don’t find one quickly, I will decide it for you instead, you know?”

Alexei: “Please choose someone who can give the greatest benefit to our family.”

Feudal Lord: “What’s up with that? That’s so boring...”

Even when I teased him, he still gave me a serious reply. What an uninteresting fellow. Though, it might look cute if it’s my wife, but when it comes to my son....

Alexei: “...Father, what are you thinking right now?”

Feudal Lord: “Hmmp, I’m thinking that you’re lacking an interesting side.”

Alexei: “Good grief, father doesn’t get bored on teasing□”

Messenger: “I’m very sorry for interrupting your talk! There’s an emergency call!”

Feudal Lord: “□□□What happened? State the emergency.”

The parent and child’s conversation stopped there as a messenger came and brought in an emergency call while we were talking, hence we return back being the lord and the knight captain who serves me from here on.

Messenger: “Yes! Just recently, several guard stations were bombed simultaneously, and some people invaded the noble area as well at the same time!”

What did you say? What in the world is happening...? Several guard stations were bombed simultaneously and there were intruders as well? How many enemies are there exactly? It should be a lot of enemies as they can attack the guard stations at the same time, so it might be better to watch over those stations.

Alexei: “Send the ones who are safe in their guard stations to assist them immediately! After that, call those who are off duty and who are taking a break as well! The amount of enemy is still unclear, so pretend that they have the same strength as or even more than us! The guards and patrols will stand by in the rear expecting another assault and the imperial guards will intensify their patrolling!”

While I was thinking about the assault, my son... no, the knight captain was giving instructions one after another... I would like to avoid dispersing the military strength in a situation where the information is not enough, but it can't be helped as the guard stations were attacked simultaneously and the noble district was invaded at the same time as well, huh...?

Feudal Lord: “And, tell the ones who are in the noble district to advise the residents for evacuation and don't ever leave the house. It's fine to use messengers, so go!”

Messenger: “Understood!”

When I gave the additional instructions, the messenger immediately went out.

Feudal Lord: “...and you as well. In the unlikely event, don't hesitate to attack me.”

Alexei: “.....I understand.”

Unlike the tragedy half a month ago, this is clearly an act of terrorism, an assault with purpose□□□that is, war.

I want to be spared with street fighting, you see.....but even if I said that, it's unavoidable, I guess.....

Chapter 17 - Carry Out 2

Now then, let's start moving as the devices that I had prepared at the guard stations have just activated.

The target is the lord's manor at the center of the noble district. Let's keep running until I reach there.

Guard: “!! You there! Stop□□□”

Rena: “Fuh!”

I threw a piece of glass towards the gatekeeper who was guarding the gate which separates the noble district and downtown area while standing still and calling out to me. The glass pierced his throat and killed him.

Then, I threw an Explosives Ball Lv. 4 (simply raised its power) at the gate with my utmost effort.

Don!! DOOOOOOOOONN!!!

.....Did I put a bit too much of gunpowder? Not only the gate but the surrounding area was blown off as well..... If I remember correctly, there's □That□ for such a time, yes?

Rena: “.....Te...Tehepero.”

(TL Note: □□□□ laughing embarrassedly and sticking out one's tongue)

.....I did it just like what I had imagined but it only gave me the shivers. I will never do that again.

In any case, more and more people are coming this way so let's run through.

Hannes: “Aaah~ I’m still not convinced~”

Ryne: “...Hannes, again with this?”

Ryne replied to my grumbling with a voice mixed with perhaps a disgusted tone, though it might be something that’s inevitable.

Hannes: “But, it was □Rena and Her Servants□! The dungeon was captured for the first time by the people who have that kind of ridiculous party name, you know!?”

Ryne: “It’s really a shame, but it was half a month ago, you know?”

Hannes: “Yeah...but...shit! If we weren’t killed by that bastard...”

Certainly I heard that she was last seen fleeing to the city on the north... but, can a beginner go solo the unexplored area normally?

Thanks to that, the people who are complete strangers, went ahead of us. Even though I could still be convinced if it was Harold’s party and the others!!

Ryne: “Yeah, you were really shocked when you heard that world announcement in the middle of our review meeting...”

Hannes: “Moreover, what’s up with that □Genocider-chan□...!? That bastard is not cute at all.”

It has even been made to be an exclusive thread as well at the Official Bulletin Board, and some copycat criminals are appearing one after another... Well, all of them will be subjugated immediately, though.

The number of palace guards is widely different than on the first day, and above all, those guys are so damn weak compared to her...

Kellin: “We haven’t seen her figure since then, what do you guys think she’s doing now!?”

Kellin said so in such a carefree tone... Yeah really, what is she doing right now? At any rate, she’s probably scheming something that’s not going to be good, right? If I find her, I will absolutely□□□

DOOOOOOOOON!!!

Hannes: “W-what happened?!”

When I thought that I heard a sudden loud explosion, the sound continued reverberating here and there.

Guard A: “Hurry! Several guard stations have been attacked!”

Guard B: “What happened?!”

Guard C: “Are they attacking the other guard station?!”

The NPC guards looked in a hurry and didn’t even try to hide it.

This is....

Cherry: “...I think I have seen this kind of spectacle recently or is it just my imagination...?”

Myra: “...Agree.”

It’s been a while since Cherry and Myra have such a conversation□□□

Don!! DOOOOOOOOONN!!!

———A huge blast sound came from the noble district... Yeah, no doubt. My intuition has hit the mark at time like this, I dare say that the noble district is where the main target is□□□

Ryne: “Hannes, don’t tell me, this is...”

Hannes: “Yeah, no doubt... Let’s go guys!! It’s time for our revenge match!!”

□□□That bastard is here!!

Rena: “With this, it’s over, yes?”

I kicked and tipped over the corpse of a soldier who was my opponent until a while ago.....though, even if I said so, the ground around me cannot be seen anymore as a lot of soldier corpses are lying here and there. Hence, there’s no meaning for what I did.

Guard D: “What the hell is this girl...?”

Guard E: “She’s that wanted criminal...”

Guard D: “This girl?!”

The remaining soldiers are one, two, three..... Even though they came out like cockroaches at first, it’s now only 14 people, huh?

The rest of them also haven’t done anything and just examining the situation from a distance.

Rena: “As expected from a trained soldier, yes? The amount of muscle and its fibers are great.”

It’s realistic even to such a place, I see? Though, I always feel like this game has only a few so-called game-like processing in it.

Even though they didn’t drop anything while in battle, I can still steal and use my opponent’s weapons. I can even use their corpses as well, and I feel like the NPCs are thinking much like human beings.

Guard F: “YOUU?!!”

Oya? They did not do anything while I was dissecting the soldiers around the vicinity, so I tried making a human bomb. However, when I was still making it, someone tried rushing at me. He seems to be angry, yes?

Well, the timing is perfect so let's throw the first human bomb which has just been completed and blow it up.

Guard D & F: “”□□□!!””

DOOOOOOONN!!

.....They were blown off like bowling pins, yes?

I'm feeling a bit refreshed now.

Rena: “Now then, let's take in the rest and go□□□”

Eleanor: “□Heat Ray□!”

Myra: “Killer Shot!”

———Some nuisances got in the way when I tried to make haste, I see...
Azabu-san immediately casted □Wind Wall□ and saved me.

Huh? Have I seen them somewhere before...?

Rena: “? Did we meet somewhere before?”

Hannes: “!! Bastard....”

Ryne: “Hannes, don't get provoked by her.”

I thought they are another soldiers or knights but it seems to be different. In fact, I feel like I have met them somewhere, but I can't seem to remember anything...

Rena: “...Well, I might remember it while we're fighting.”

I reached to that conclusion and threw the second and third human bombs.

Cherry: “□Holy Wall□”

I already know that they will defend against those as the true purpose of those are merely a distraction.

Ryne: “Shi-!!”

Rena: “Fun!!”

Hannes: “Ha!!”

Oh? They could defend against my thrust alongside the glass piece that I have thrown? These people are perhaps players, yes?..... They’re more fun than NPC soldiers.

Hannes: “We’re not what we used to be half a month ago now!”

Rena: “...Half a month ago?”

Hannes: “...Do you really not remember?”

Rena: “Unfortunately.....”

Hannes: “I will fucking kill you!!”

We seemed to be acquainted somehow, but I do not remember anything. It’s natural for him to be angry, yes?

I will reflect on that.

Kellin: “How cruel...”

Cherry: “Yeah, it’s pitiful indeed...”

Myra: “Agree.”

While dodging the axe that was swung diagonally, I threw a glass piece from the flank towards the spear-user who was approaching from behind.

When I confirmed that a light metal sound has successfully rung, I immediately went through the axe user's side and aimed at the rear guard but□□□While I was dodging the long sword from the swordsman that was drawing near with a jump similar to pole vaulting, I blocked the arrow that was just shot by the archer using an explosive ball which created a smoke screen and made the mage-oneesan lost sight of me.

Eleanor: "Kh!! Cancel!"

It's wonderful that she can judge well. If she casted the magic with poor visibility, she could hit the nearby swordsman and the axe-user behind me.

Hannes: "Still the same incredible player skill, huh!?"

I dodged the approaching spear with the dagger's haft immediately and aimed for the spear-user's chest as well as evading the long sword at the same time.

I was trying to aim at his throat or heart as it is, but I cancelled it as an axe had been swung from below diagonally. Thus, I trapped the spear-user's ankle and made him fall over.

Rena: "Oh my!"

Hannes: "Tch!"

The axe-user was afraid to hit the spear-user and forced to change his axe's trajectory. I threw a piece of glass at him who was in an unstable posture, however it was obstructed by the approaching swordsman and the glass didn't kill my target.

And because of perhaps the axe-user's willpower as well, he twisted his body forcefully and as a result, the glass piece only pierced his shoulder.

Hannes: "Guh!!"

Because I was getting surrounded by the vanguard, I jumped using the spear-user who was trying to get up as a stool.

Let's restrain the rear guard again with explosive balls while jumping over the swordsman's head.

Eleanor: "[Flame Lance]"

Cherry: "[Small Heal]"

They managed to block them all with magic and heal the spear-user and axe-user, I see?

As expected, I should kill the healer first, huh...?

Player A: "Oi! Hannes' party is fighting with Genocider-chan!"

Player B: "Seriously!? We will assist them too!"

Player C: "It's festival timeeeee!!"

Player D: "The thread will speed up again, yeah!"

More and more players are coming while we continued exchanging offense and defense, I see....

This is convenient.

Chapter 18 - Carry Out 3

Hannes: "...seems like the number of people has increased."

Other players who heard this uproar came and gathered around while we were fighting against this bitch. We might defeat her with this difference in numbers, but won't it also become a hindrance instead...?

Ryne: "What now? You will be in a great disadvantage as time passes. There won't be any chances for you to win if you can't beat us in this short amount of time, you see?"

Cherry: "Yes, please give up..."

Ryne and Cherry asked her to surrender but□□□

Rena: "? Why?"

□□□As I thought, this bastard doesn't want to stop what she's doing. Even I won't agree if she just surrendered and finished this matter like that! I can't win against this bitch then, right!?!

Eleanor: "...It's useless, I don't think that girl has an intention to surrender."

Myra: "...Unfortunate."

Kellin: "Seriously~ she still doesn't want to surrender? Then it's decided, right~?"

In the course of the conversation, the number of players has increased more and more, and that bitch is now surrounded by a mountain of players... moreover there are three capture parties other than us as well.....

Hannes: “Say what you like, we’ll bring you down.”

Ryne: “Yeah, that’s right.”

I readied my axe and the players around us were waiting for the signal as well, keeping our pace together, and we tried to charge in□□□

Everyone: “□!!!□”

□□□she’s gone?!!

No, that’s not it! Her speed suddenly increased. We can still keep up with our eyes, but she’s even faster than before!

Hannes: “Fuck! What is she trying to do!?”

Ryne: “Why suddenly...”

While we were surprised, she charged into the crowd opposite of us, then decapitated five players, cut off the limbs of eight players, blew up three places around the rear guards, hurled another five players, and managed to avoid the magic and arrows with wind magic and light magic..... That bastard can even use magic as well?!

Player A: “We will go as well!”

Player B: “!! Y-yeah!”

We separated from the mob as I judged that they will just do whatever they pleases after this and gathered around with the other capture parties to coordinate and move together□□□but the others were killed while we were trying to evade.

She slammed against my axe from overhead and dodged with a backflip, but then, she did an upward kick at my chin immediately after that....

When I thought that she had to put her hand on the ground, she continued to do a Capoeira-like kick at the vanguards’ faces and blew them off. She then leapt into the sky after applying □Gust□ magic on herself and got out of the encirclement. She immediately turned over□□□and I could only hear screams coming from the rear guards.....

I was thinking while dealing with the hindering rear guards, but this □Title: Slaughterer□ is helping me a lot, yes? I did not realize that it has this much effect before, but right now I could see a crowd full of people as far as my eyes can see... Perhaps, my AGI is strengthened to a point near maximum?

Cherry: “Guhh!!”

I kicked the priest girl’s chin upward, moved to her back and blew her off with a kick again in her waist while she was still limping, and ignited the prepared explosive balls□□□it swallowed up the vanguards who were rushing towards here.

Player C: “W-what?!”

Player D: “I can’t see a thing!”

After creating the chaos due to the smoke and aftermath of the explosion, I threw someone’s spear, pierced another person’s throat with a stranger’s knife and decapitated three healers while the opponents has lost sight of me.

After cutting off the wrists of the swordsman who is one of the vanguards, I hit his abdomen to make him faint, stepped on his head and crushed it. After that, I charged again into the center of the enemy’s formation.

Player E: “GYAAAAAA!!”

Player F: “GAAAHH!!”

Player G: “NOOO!!”

I threw a dagger and headshotted the great-swordsman who charged towards here from the back while I hit the dagger-user’s head with the hilt of my dagger and crushed it.

At the same time, I grabbed the nape of a magician girl who had gone astray and charged towards the vanguards while dragging her and using her as a shield.

Player H: “Bastard!!”

Player I: “She truly has no mercy...”

Player J: “She’s a fucking animal!!!”

Because there’s someone who was snickering me, I put a dagger into its opened mouth and decapitated it from its upper jaw.

I continued running through them until the girl’s HP was about to disappear. Then, I placed an explosive ball on her and threw her with my utmost effort.

Player K: “Ah...”

It’s great to be able to return to your original party, yes?

While glancing at the explosion from the party members who had caught the girl, I kicked the spear-user’s chin who was aiming his spear for my foot and jumped.

I then distributed the explosive balls with the help of my followers’ magic and landed at the safe spot.

Rena: “It has now been reduced considerably, yes?”

Everyone: “□.....□”

It was stupidly crowded with players and NPCs that I can’t even see the end of the line before, but it has now been reduced to the point where I can have a complete control... Though, there are still three digits remained, you see.

Now then, where should I attack again□□□

???: “□Dance of the Seven Red Flames□!!”

□□□Since a huge attack came towards me, I avoided it with all my strength□□□Swung half of my body down□□□Bent my upper body□□□Lowered my head from the attack□□□Turned around to avoid an attack from the top□□□Charged forward against the thrusts□□□Twisted my body while jumping overhead□□□Lastly, I tried to counterattack with glass shards and explosive balls while doing a backstep...but it was all averted.

???: “Not only you dodged all of my attack from the start, but you also managed to counterattack...”

Uwaah, seems like someone who is clever and strong has appeared, yes..... Let’s check his status first.

.....Isn’t he too strong??

Chapter 19 - Alexei Vallence

Alexei: “Fuh...”

It finally went quiet after having to continuously throw orders for the reports from my subordinates that never stop coming.

Feudal Lord: “It was tiring, right?”

Alexei: “It cannot be helped if the chaos is this big.”

It was fortunate that we quickly knew that the explosion at the guard station was only a diversion, however the chaos around the citizens is still a problem....

There was a simultaneous explosion here and there, even though they just experienced a major fire that damaged three-digit buildings half a month ago. Rather, we tried to get a lot of hands to reduce this confusion....

Feudal Lord: “Fumu, let’s just say it’s already good that we found out it was a diversion, and as expected, the enemy’s true objective is here, don’t you think so?”

Alexei: “...most probably.”

It was a clear intention for war when the gate separating the noble district and downtown area was blasted away and the intruders went inside. There have been no reports of battle against anyone from the guard stations.

The enemy had blasted the guard stations aiming for diversion and scattering the military strength, and without a doubt, they are approaching here.

Feudal Lord: “What about the war situation?”

Alexei: “...It’s not in a favorable state either. The soldiers that we have sent are almost annihilated.”

At first I doubted the reports from my subordinates. The soldiers who protect the noble district can’t be matched with the downtown ones, that is to say, it’s an army which I have tempered thoroughly by my own hands.

That’s why, I can’t believe that they are almost wiped off this easily.

Feudal Lord: “Fumu, is this fine for you to not go as well?”

Alexei: “There’s nothing to worry about. We have asked for assistance from the adventurers through the guild. Besides, it seems that the migrants are heading to the front voluntarily.”

Feudal Lord: “I see.....”

There’s another information as well that the culprit is also a migrant. Everyone calls her Genocider-chan.....was it? They have been calling her that from the start. If it’s true, then it’s reasonable, though I’m truly grateful about this information.

In this way, if I consult with my father, who is the feudal lord, about what to do after this□□□

Soldier: “Report! The Army, adventurers, and migrants joint front is almost collapsing!”

———my subordinate came to report while making a face that is about to cry.

I didn’t expect that she could collapse the front...this can’t be helped, if possible, I don’t want to leave my dear father’s side, but.....

Alexei: “.....Dear father, I’m going.”

Feudal Lord: “Yes, it’s better if you go.”

The site where I arrived at was in an awful state. It was a terrible spectacle much like a city where you can't even think of a single compliment about as it was brimming over with corpses in every vicinity.

Rena: "....."

A woman in front of me with a slight look of surprise might be the one who created this. Just now, she avoided my secret technique even though it was her first time seeing it and she even did a counterattack as well, hence she can't be made light of even if she's a woman.

She brought a disaster in the first town and killed a large number of virtuous people, including my men. There's no such thing as giving a handicap at this point of time! Rather, I will defeat her with all my might!!

Rena: "...If I look closely, are you not the son of the feudal lord?"

Alexei: "? What about it...?"

What? What's wrong with being the son of the feudal lord?

At the same time when I said those words, her expression disappeared and everything that was in light atmosphere became heavier....

Rena: "If so, I should kill you at all cost..."

Alexei: "!!!"

□□□□□Fast!!??!?

Did I still belittle my opponent?

While revising my evaluation for her, I dodged the thrusts which were aimed at my neck with a minimum move and performed a counter□□□!!!

Alexei: "Shi!!"

She even dodged that and counterattacked. Her dagger obstinately aimed at my neck, hence I avoided it and sometimes swung my big sword while preventing it.

She hit my sword while I tried striking a blow from above my head and proceed on evading her backhand blow when she planned to blind me.

As a result, I tried using my blade at my opponent who lost her balance, however she bent her knees and threw a piece of glass while avoiding it.

Rena: "...this is unexpectedly hard."

I dodged her quick movement with my own movement and dealt with the thrown dagger as well....

It's good that I can easily understand that all of her attacks are aiming for my vital parts, but those attacks cannot be ignored as there were attacks such as throwing something for the purpose of blinding me or obstructing my action.....this could become troublesome if we still stuck like this.

There were no serious injuries along the battle, but I had a few scratches on my body... How many years ago was it, the last time that I shed some blood?

Alexei: "It can't be helped, I don't want to use this in the city, but..."

This area had already been ruined, it won't change any further even if it's destroyed a lot more.

Alexei: "Not just making me use all of my strength, but making me go serious as well... You should regret what you have done."

I was told such thing by the big shot guy. However, my opponent's defense is too solid and I can't quite attack and break it off, though.

Well, it's just my idle complaint, you see□□□

Alexei: “□Body Strengthening□Explosive Lion□”

———Oya?

Alexei: “□Body Strengthening□Rakshasa Kongou□”

□□□Isn’t this?

Alexei: “□High Enchant□Glory Prominence□”

———Quite?

Alexei: “□Oath□A sword to avenge our enemies□”

———Bad?

Alexei: “□Oath□A shield to protect our people□”

When the big shot guy had done all of the reinforcement, he blew out a bluish-white flame from his whole body with a deep red violent face similar to a demon’s and all of the surrounding stone pavements were melting.

.....As expected, isn't he too strong?????

Chapter 20 - Alexei Vallence 2

This situation...can perhaps be called quite bad.

It seems like I could take slip damage by approaching him, so it would be bad getting close to him carelessly.....

Well, I could just wait as he only has 30 seconds limit for the cost of his super-strengtheni□□□

Rena: “!?!”

———He reduced the distance between us in an instant and cut off my left arm. I did not even see any signs from him at all.

I was able to throw a counter and grazed his neck slightly, but it's a shame that I have to sacrifice my left arm, you see.

Alexei: “JiiiiyyyyyyaaaAAAAAA!!!”

.....Is this person alright? Is he still thinking rationally? With my left arm in hand, I immediately evacuated from that place and threw a poison smoke ball as a souvenir.

Alexei: “Gah!!”

Uwah, it was blown away by his charge impact, yes... It seems it would be better to aim for surviving and shortened the time without trying to knock him down.

□□□Therefore, I aggressively rushed into the crowd of players who are standing still.

Player: “!?!”

Player: “Wai-!?”

Player: “Genocider-chan is really merciless...”

Player: “Spread out! We will get caught!”

No, I won't let you escape.

I used Santa-san's □Holy Wall□ on their retreat path, threw explosive balls, and confined most of everyone with Kageyama-san and the others' □Shadow Weave□.

I didn't manage to get everyone, but I will keep the majority on the spot and use them actively as shields.

Alexei: "Guguh!!"

As I thought, he still has some reasoning remained as he doesn't want to get his subordinates and players involved, I see.

Well, it is indeed strange if he swings his sword properly without any reasoning left, though.....

I attached my left arm back with the potion that I have created by myself while using the players as shields. I added Santa-san's light magic, recovery, recovery effect acceleration and regeneration effects to the potion..... looks like I can move my arm again, that's great.

Rena: "What a troublesome fellow..."

I threw a few poison smoke bombs and scattered them here and there while running from place to place.

Although this has been disadvantageous for me since the beginning, it's a lot more difficult if he has super-strengthening. It would be great if this will go as planned, but□□□ Player: "Oi! Knight bro! We, the playe-....the migrants will revive when we die! Just do it!"

Player: "Yeah! Just do it!"

Player: "Don't mind us and just do it!"

———□□It became more disadvantageous, I see? Such unnecessary things.....

Player: "Don't hesitate and mind us! Hehe, Let's go on a fun adventure toge□□□"

Alexei: "Jii!!"

Ah, those who were fooling around got caught and respawned, it seems.....
Wait, This is not the time to watch leisurely. He's charging in with a frightful spirit while engulfing the players around him.

I turned away to the side while throwing the explosive balls and poison smoke bombs as a smoke screen□□□but, I was cut in the stomach.

Rena: "The potions are being consumed at a tremendous pace... it was a good idea to obtained the medicine skill, yes."

If the players can't serve as shields, at least it can be used as weapons, hence I threw some players that I have inserted explosive balls and stuffs beforehand.

Of course it was intercepted, but that doesn't matter. I can stop his movement with Santa-san and the others' magic even if it's less than a second, and while I'm at it, I have to get some distances as much as possible and throw another one at him again.

Player: "About us being Genocider-chan's weapon..."

Player: "Wait, before that, she also used us as shields, aren't we surprisingly good?"

Player: "The ultimate weapon, that is us."

If he gets close, I won't be able to use my dagger, and could only evade, fend it off and endure.

I dodged while rushing in and released some thrusts with my sword, then I laid on the ground to avoid the slash momentum with a sudden break, and cut his Achilles' heel while maintaining a low posture.....though, I don't quite know whether it would have an effect or not.

Alexis: "GUGAAA!!"

!! This is bad. He's approaching here and his speed has increased. My title's effect has dropped as the number of people on the battlefield has been reduced significantly. This is□□□

Rena: “Haah!!”

———I released some slashes with a vigorous yell in an instant while moving my body and half dodging with my willpower.

Rena: “.....Fuhh...fuhh...”

My arms are now numb and my breath has run out, I have endured while being cut everywhere. It’s a good thing that these are not fatal wounds.

I can’t wait anymore, is it not time yet?

Rena: “Shi!!”

Alexei: “GAA!!”

Rena: “Fuh!! Haa!!”

Alexei: “Guguu!”

Stabbing his shoulders, cutting his stomach, swinging down my right arm, flipping over my thighs, turning around and cut his cheek while dodging with a paper-thin difference, evading, running away, and avoiding his attacks□□□

Player (Yamcha 1): “I see, so this is Yamcha’s point of view.”

(TL Note: In case you don’t know, he’s a character from Dragon Ball.)

Player (Yamcha 2): “I have no idea what they are doing.”

□□□but, my left leg got cut off and he immediately charged in when I was about to lose my balance.

.....Aa~ah, I can’t avoid this, yes?

I watched the knight captain whose appearance is similar like a demon, came charging towards me.

This is, the one who will likely die is not only me but also Inoue-san and the others, it seems.....

Chapter 21 - Defeat

“Gahaa...!!”

I vomited some blood and kneeled on the ground. I thought I still have some time left but my body is now shaking and does not listen to what I say. I can see that my body is rapidly losing its energy.....

Why did I lose? It's embarrassing to say that I don't even understand it..... Alongside that question, I glared with overflowing hatred at the woman who is in front of my eyes and currently sitting on the ground.

Rena: “...Fuuh, I have won the bet, yes? It was truly dangerous this time.”

I asked the woman who got up using a lot of potions and such that I can't quite sure the amount that she had been carrying.

Alexei: “.....How come?”

Rena: “? What do you mean?”

Alexei: “.....I should have had 10 seconds left. With that amount of time, I could have pierced your neck.”

Rena: “Ahh.....”

I have a slight intuition about this, however I can not help but ask. The woman explained what happened right after she understood what I was talking about.

Rena: “...Well, you see. It's not that difficult, so I will tell you everything about it.”

The woman said so and proceed to tell me from the beginning until the time when I realized that my hand was struck to the ground like this.

Rena: “First, my dagger is smeared with deadly poison from the start, you see. You had received a number of scratches, though it was before you strengthened yourself. I was a little flustered as I thought that it didn’t have any effect at all, however I felt relieved as it turns out that it worked.”

Alexei: “But I didn’t feel like my condition was poisoned, though?”

Rena: “It’s easy, the explosive ball itself has a weak poison effect as a side effect, and the poison smoke bomb is not just a poison, instead it also has an effect that amplifies the effect when the poison that I have smeared on the knife is mixed with your body.....I guess.”

Alexei: “...you guess?”

Rena: “I merely read the text, so I was also skeptical whether it is true or not, you know? In addition, I also used dark magic □Weakness□to lower your resistance against abnormal condition just to make sure. As a result, your HP ran out faster than usual. Do you understand now?”

Alexei: “.....Aa~ah, this is frustrating.”

It was truly frustrating.....It’s disappointing yet embarrassing as well that I couldn’t manage to bring down the monster who had ruined my hometown, and also the enemy of my dear father and the Order faction.

Rena: “Now then, do you have any last word?”

Alexei: “Nothing.....No, my father... please spare him. At any rate, you’re going there, aren’t you?”

Rena: “.....That’s true, but to your father... yes?”

Alexei: “Yeah, would that be no good?”

Rena: “.....No, it’s fine.”

Although she showed a slight hesitation, she eventually accepted it. I do not know the reason, but probably she has a feud with my father....

Rena: “Well then, this is farewell. It was a lot of fun.”

Alexei: “...I also wanted to meet you at a different situation than this, you know?”

Aa~ah, it's really frustrating.....fighting with this fellow who is the enemy of my dear father and the Order faction and a monster who had ruined my hometown□□□was fun.

Rena: “Well then.”

Her dagger slowly penetrated my throat. It felt as if a foreign object is invading my body and I could feel the heat that is similar like a warm blaze that made me scowled in an instant. However, I immediately lost my senses and could feel nothing around me.

At last, I felt the sense of iron clod passing through my nape□□□

I burned her beautiful face into my memory and finally, my consciousness ceased to exist.

I managed to win against the knight captain, yes?

It was somewhat a narrow victory as it was a terribly hard fight indeed.
Let's reflect on this and put it to good use as a reference in the future.

Rena: "Now then, what should I do?"

The majority of players had already returned to the dead, and the NPCs had been making a resignation look since the knight captain kneeled on the ground.

Among them, there's still one party that is glaring straight right here to this very moment.

Hannes: "....."

Ryne: "Hannes, if you want to do this, I will go with you until the end."

Eleanor: "Yeah, our opponent is also exhausted as well."

Cherry: "I-I will do my best to support!"

Myra: "...This time for sure, pierce her."

Kellin: "Ehh~? Are you serious? It can't~ be helped~ then~!"

Hoho? It's the party that always pick a fight, yes? I don't mind it, though.

They immediately readied up their weapon....

Hannes: "... No, let's just stop."

Ryne: "Hannes?"

Hannes: "It's not good for our current situation, and even if we know what her objective is, we could only hold out at best."

Ryne: "....."

Hannes: "But don't you misunderstand this, okay? It's just a temporary withdrawal from our fight!"

Ryne: "So that's what you mean..."

Eleanor: "Can't be helped at all, huh..."

Hannes: "We will become strong someday and crush you so be prepared□□□"

Rena: "□□□it's okay if it's just a tedious talk, though."

They are passionately talking to each other for some reason. But, even though it's bad, I have to rush ahead and run through the central area quickly.

Hannes: "□□□As I thought, I hate everything about you."

Rena: "? Is that so?"

I then killed roughly the remaining party members with a surprise attack and left the place.

Chapter 22 - Defeat 2

Feudal Lord: "...He was defeated, huh..."

I confirmed the conclusion of the battle from the manor's balcony.

Feudal Lord: "Don't you skip over me, you idiot son..."

People have an important order of things, the ones that are born first has to die first——it's simple but important. I couldn't return almost anything that I got from my father... but I still kept the order and in the end I didn't die first.

No matter how loyal the child is, if he didn't follow the order and die before his parents, it could not be said that it's a likeable thing even if the child was a knight captain who was being diobedient to one's parent just for striving good conducts□□□

Feudal Lord: "———I've told you..."

Rena: "What is?"

Feudal Lord: "...No, nothing. It's just my own monologue."

I looked back while answering the woman's voice from behind.

Feudal Lord: "In any case, did my son leave some words to you?"

Even if he's a big fool and unfilial son, he might still have a last request, doesn't he? Hence, I asked her so.

Rena: "...Eeh, he said please live."

Feudal Lord: "...I see.....I see."

It was the last word from my son that I deeply engraved as if it was chewed thoroughly... This must be done with maximum effort.

Feudal Lord: "...So? What do the winner wants from the loser?"

With a terribly complex expression, I asked the obvious question to her.

Rena: "Let's see, first, you have to adopt Eren, the Moonlight Family leader, as your adopted child or a hidden child."

I frowned when I heard the demand from her who became expressionless in an instant. Because I have understood how it will develop after this.

Rena: "After completing the various procedures, you will nominate Eren as the successor and retire from your lord position."

Feudal Lord: "...How can I explain this to the central government?"

Rena: "Please tell them that Eren has won as a result of the successor's scramble."

Feudal Lord: ".....What if I refuse?"

At that moment, I stopped breathing due to the pressure.

Rena: "...are you going to ignore your son's last will?"

Feudal Lord: "...I don't mean it like that, it's just a hypothetical story."

This is... not good, my son have entrusted his will to her. If you look at her eyes, you will know that you won't just die.

Rena: "Well, let's see. If you refuse, can I have your remaining daughter do her best? If I'm correct, she's 14 years old this year, so I'm sure she can make a child now, and I can put a goblin who is not related by blood with the feudal lord as a successor. yes?"

Just listening to this person who speaks a repulsive thing casually makes me horrified... Can someone say something like this while being conscious? Rather, would anyone think something like this in the first place?

Feudal Lord: "...I will ensure all the demands, so don't put your hands to my daughter and wife."

Rena: "Is that so? If so, then there's no problem."

In the first place, there is no choice for me since my son lost, so all I can do is to save as many lives as possible.

Feudal Lord: "...and one more thing."

Rena: "There's still more?"

Feudal Lord: "This is the last... promise me to never leave the fief and the people out of hand."

Rena: "? Would that be it?"

Feudal Lord: ".....yeah."

I had thought a lot for a moment, but let's stop. I don't feel like it would be a decent result.

Rena: "That's fine. Rather, it will still be the same as before except for some policies, and after you have succeeded Eren-san as the lord, please go talk to the Moonlight Family boss together with me. I only wanted a puppet."

Feudal Lord: "...I see, well then, let's act immediately."

Rena: "Yes, please."

Today marks the day where the fief of Margrave Vallence came to an end□□□□□□

Boss: “Fumu, I didn’t think you could accomplish this kind of feat.”

I alongside the feudal lord’s envoy went to meet the Moonlight Family boss on the next day and that was the first line that he said.

Rena: “You didn’t believe it?”

Boss: “Well, even if you’re not a human, you are still a single person. I had thought that it wasn’t enough to defeat the knight captain, Alexei. Did I go senile as well?”

Half in doubt, I see?

Well, you wouldn’t think that a coup would be successful with merely one little girl, yes?

Boss: “...One question, what if we don’t manage the territory like what you wanted to?”

Rena: “? I will just change the head again, though?”

Boss: “...I see, we don’t want to be as hostile as we could towards you as we won’t do anything from here.”

Rena: “That’s splendid.”

Even though I have succeeded with great pains, it’s troublesome to start over again, yes?

Though, it would be easy to do as there won’t be the knight leader next time.

Rena: “Well then, I will leave the rest to you, yes?”

Boss: “Yeah, leave it to me.”

Rena: “Now then, that will be it from me today.”

I said so and left the place, went back to the hotel, and logged out. Today was a passionate day. What a nice feeling of exhaustion.

What should I do next? Should I aim for the next city soon?

Before I know it, I'm not in the wanted list for First Town anymore.
Though, the bounty from the temple has increased, yes...?

Well, doesn't matter. I strengthened my overall status, stripped off the coat and armor from the knight captain's corpse, and made the feudal lord's craftsman to combine the Darkness Cloak and Heavens Cloak into Night Sky Cloak and strengthen the Ring of Power into Sturdy Ring of Power.

Rena: "Next is Yamada-san."

Rena: “Everyone, you have become stronger!”

Yamada-san: □——!□

Kageyama-san: □Uuu!□

Azabu-san: □...! (Bassabassa!)□

Santa-san: □Gaa!□

Inoue-san: □Iiii!□

They are proud, yes? Especially when I saw that everyone including me had □Fire Attribute Resistance□, as expected I have to recognize that the knight leader was strong.

Even if I said so, we still won, yes?

Rena: “Now then, I have finished checking our status so let’s check the town as well.”

It’s just only one night, but let’s check out the coup’s influence as we prepare to go to the next city.

▼▼▼▼▼▼▼

Seems like the public order in noble district has not yet turned bad even if several guard stations were destroyed and three-digit soldiers got slaughtered, yes?

That also should be expected as the Moonlight Family, who handle the back society of the town, is controlling the wrongdoers, you see?

Normally, they would take the advantage of this chaos and do secret maneuvers so they were suppressed. It’s something that stereotypical if I may say? To begin with□□□

Hannes: “Oy! Behave yourself!”

Ryne: “Hannes, don’t run ahead!”

Eleanor: “Yes, it’s good that we caught them, but don’t go too far.”

Hannes: “S-sorry…”

—————seems like the players who were chasing after the villainess me, are working together to bring them down, you see?

Hence, everything should be alright until the next city is released and the people spread there.

I left the place after taking a sidelong glance to the noisy players, and gather some information at the NPC stall this time.

Rena: “Uncle, please give me one of this.”

Uncle: “A’ight, wait a little.”

I purchased one grilled skewer that seems to have a delicious scent and start gathering information.

Rena: “Yesterday was huge, yes?”

Uncle: “...Yeah, it was. The feudal lord announced that it was a successor fight so it turned bad, right?”

Rena: “Was that so?”

Uncle: “Yeah, seems like the feudal lord has a secret child. That child was discontent with the lord who hasn’t resolved the huge incident that occurred half a month ago. To begin with, he didn’t want to acknowledge and dissatisfied with the current state.”

Rena: “Hee~”

Apparently, the general public seems to believe what the feudal lord had announced formally. I don't know what will the central do for the report,... but well, they won't probably believe it.

Uncle: "But I didn't think Alexei would lose."

Rena: "It was surprising, yes?"

Uncle: "Yeah, I thought that the next generation would be safe if that person becomes the lord, you know~? What will the future be now..."

Well, seems like they have a huge anxiety. Though, it's natural for them. That is what Eren-san has to do from now on for their expectation.

Uncle: "Here ya go, careful it's still hot."

Rena: "Thank you, farewell."

Uncle: "Yeah, come again!"

Saying so, I proceed to ponder while walking around the town with skewer in one hand. Honestly speaking, it didn't matter how troublesome it was as I was in the wanted list and it seems fun as well, hence I caused this coup, you see... It's something like 'that', I guess. Either the rhino beetle or stag beetle that would win.

It was my win this time and it was good because it was fun. However, it's regrettable that I couldn't do a lot of pleasant things in this town anymore.

Rena: "...Should I go all out and continue capturing?"

I first created some potions that has been reduced from the inventory and reconfirm the cooperation with my followers... Seems like it will take around three days to start aiming for the next town, yes?

Chapter 25 - North Underground Passage

Now then, it has been four days since the coup and it's time to resume the conquest.

If I think about it, I've been ignoring the story including the main story of this game, so let's try doing this seriously.

The target is [Belzenstock City] which is on the other side of the bay after passing through the underground passage that is in the underground tomb's boss room.

Rena: "...How did they make an underground passage under the bay with this kind of civilization level?"

I can't help but ask the realism of the game as I'm curious because all the other elements are so similar to reality, you see.....

Seems like I could know the answer if I try to find out the setting of this place and such.

Three days have passed since I entered the underground passage from the boss room to go to [Belzenstock City], and I have spent nearly five hours today.

Rena: "Hmm..."

As expected, the humidity is high perhaps due to the ocean above. Seems like the effect of my explosive balls will be weak here.

Rena: “Well, I still have another plan to compensate this, but...”

The area is dim and it’s hard to walk as water is leaking from somewhere... I’m really glad that I have the [walking] skill because I won’t probably be able to see that I’m falling if I lose my balance during a battle.

Would there be wild bats [] [] big bats [] [] suddenly fly from the front and disappear into nothingness?

I’m still advancing while slashing a lot of monsters such as sea snakes [] [] a serpent that can shoot water magic [] [], but I don’t feel like I have made any progress at all.

Rena: “...another stairs that lead downward?”

I thought I will continue going up along the way, but I have been going down ever since. It’s boring as the surrounding scenery does not change at all and only the air is the one that is getting heavier.

Rena: “...Oya?”

When I was about half-way giving up due to the unchanging scenery on the fifth staircase, the atmosphere suddenly change, I see?

The view is nice in which the ceiling is high and the surrounding area is filled with corals and blue crystals. In addition, there’s also a softly emitted light from the top.

Rena: “The air is delicious indeed.”

It’s strange that the air is delicious even though this is only a game..... but in any case, I’m in high spirits as some changes finally occurred.

[BOSS Enemy]

Race: [Sea God] | Level: [35]

Condition: □Normal□

It seems to be a merman that looks more of a fish for its body. It's a monster that has green scales which similar to Sahuagin and that said monster is currently staring at me while gripping its trident.

(TL Note: a monster from D&D)

Rena: "...what can you expect? It's a boss room, after all, yes?"

It should have been expected as the scenery that had been the same the whole time suddenly changed. But, even though I understand that, I still cannot be convinced that my previous excitement is now lost.

While in the middle of complaining, I threw a few poisonous 20cm needles and attacked first.

Sea God: □Jyaa!□

Although almost all of the needles were repelled by the trident on its hand, two of them successfully stabbed in its shoulder, I see...

Well, seems like it didn't feel any pain, though.

Rena: "Fuh!"

Sea God: □Jiji!!□

When I approached and swung down my dagger with a backhand grip, my dagger got repelled by the trident's ferrule, but I then bashed its jaw with the hilt of my dagger.

Sea God: □GAA!!□

After that, I tripped the monster, swung down my elbow to its belly, kicked its waist with my knee and blew it away with a roundhouse kick when it tried to get up. Let's follow it up with throwing a poisonous needle while I'm at it.

Sea God: □GiiiII!!□

Standing up, in the form of anger, it charged while lowering its trident towards me. I imitated and approached it as well while preparing to block its attack with my dagger.

However, the monster changed its behavior and tried to return its trident. Thus, we stood still on the spot and I pulled back my dagger after it clashed with the tip of its trident.

Sea God: □Jii?!□

I sunk the tip of my toe to the monster's solar plexus and it was about to fall. I then held its wrists down with my left hand, and kicked its groin while hitting the face with my right fist a few times.

Sea God: □——?!?!□

.....seems like it's a male. I kicked it up once more and tried to slash it with my dagger, but the monster avoided on the last second and casted a water magic, □Water Blade□. I took some distances away and threw a piece of glass at the same time.

Sea God: □Jijiii?!□

As expected, in this place where the bluish soft light is reflected by the crystals, a small piece of glass cannot be seen that easily, thus it succeeded in piercing one of its eye.

I charged in while throwing the poison needle again and avoided the incoming thrown trident by bending my knee similar to a swayback pose.

I slipped while looking at the trident that passes through in front of my eyes, and passed through the monster's inseam while cutting its legs.

Sun God: □JYAA?!□

This place, which is entirely wet, is useful as I can slide very well, but I thought to myself halfway through to be careful and turned over to pierce its nape□□□but it evaded by tumbling forward.

Sea God: □Gugu...□

I threw the usual smoke bomb towards it, which is currently being cautious and glaring at me, to snatch away its vision. After doing so, I leaped through the sky with the □Sky Kick□ skill and carried out a dropping attack from its blind spot overhead.

Sea God: □Jii?!□

The monster noticed just before the impact, but it's already too late as the dagger had pierced through its forehead. Let's put some more weight and push it to the ground just to make sure.

Sea God: □Ji...iii.....□

.....It looks like it can still breathe a bit of air, so I defeated it by adding a thrust and twist with my dagger.

□Level has increased□

□You have earned skill points□

□All existed skills level has increased□

□Acquired 5 SP as a reward for subjugating the boss of Hall of Sea Mirrors.□

I was able to defeat it before the poison taken its effect, I see...

It's unfortunate that there was no time and I can't see the result of my newly-made poison as well. In addition, it seems that I'm not the first one to capture this area. Well, it's not like it matters, but I might encounter other players along the way, yes?

Rena: "Let's take a break for the time being and advance thereafter."

Thus, I logged out once I'm in a safe zone after defeating the boss.

Chapter 26 - North Underground

Passage 2

Rena: “I see~”

I logged in and advanced for an amount of time after beating the boss while pondering would this area be eventually submerged if the seawater keeps leaking from somewhere?

Because I have set the game to be realistic and it manages to scare me, I tried investigating for the source. It seems like it’s coming from that blue quartz.

I can’t imagine that there could be something that gorgeous inside a boss room that is in the bottom of the layer...

Player: “...yes, that’s right.”

Therefore, I’m currently threaten-.....asking a player who I happened to pass by. Apparently he seems to be from a group called the inspection team.

Player: “Why is the Genocider here...? No, it’s not that strange, though...”

Rena: “...is there something wrong?”

Player: “□□□!! N-No! No! Nothing!!”

I was just asking as he was muttering something, but he’s strangely sitting upright, you see...

Rather than that, who is this genocider? Did he mistaken me for someone?

Player: "...umm, you can release me anytime now..."

Rena: "You're convenient so please follow me."

Player: "Ah, yes."

There seems to be a lot of information to take, so let's squeeze out what he has been investigating.

This kind of opportunity is valuable to me as I don't have any interaction with other players, you know?

Player: "That's all the information that I got about the place where you're heading to, [Belzenstock City]..."

Rena: "I see, thank you very much."

Unlike the [Town of Beginning], [Belsenstock City], which I'm currently aiming for, is a shipping city that is brimming with many bays that serves as harbors.

Various goods are gathered from all over the world, including people. Hence, it's also called a city full of slaves.

Rena: "The slaves are supporting the people's lives, I see..."

Player: "Yes, that's about it. They are the ones who do all the work. Not just heavy work, such as carrying luggage or cleaning the sewers, but jobs that no one wants to do as well."

It seems like the slaves were not illegal by law and it was an everyday occurrence where the slaves rebelled against their master, but ever since the current lord ruled the territory, the pressure against the slaves has become stronger and they are only guaranteed barely minimum necessities for life. Seems that, it's an "I can just own another one even if they die" kind of situation.

However, thanks to exploiting the labor force of slavery, the city prospered even further, and the support from the middle class and above, such as the wealthy people, seems to be stronger as well.

Player: "...Umm, Genocider-san."

Rena: "...Are you talking to me?"

I thought he's talking about someone from a while ago, but it seems like he's talking about me, yes?

Player: "Eh? didn't you know? You're a celebrity among players, you know?!"

Rena: "...that seems to be like it, but my name is not Genocider."

Why does it have to be Genocider... Well, I could probably guess the gist of it after remembering that I have done PKs and such inside the city.

Player: "Then, what should I call you...?"

Rena: "My name is Rena, so please call me that."

Player: "Ehh?! Then the name of that ridiculous party that the first one to capture the Underground Tomb was□□□"

Rena: “———Your tongue or throat? Which would you like to be cut?”

I heard a rash remark that I could not pass, so I put my dagger into his mouth and approached his face while giving those choices.

Player: “.....Ahm schowweh..”

Rena: “...Well, that’s fine.”

I’ve been taught various things from him so let’s overlook it this time...

Player: “cough cough...t-that was scary.....”

This person is exaggerating too much, yes? It’s interesting to see it, but it won’t be like this every time, right?

Player: “...wait, Rena? I think I have heard it somewhere?”

Rena: “? Wasn’t it the party name that captured the tomb, like you said?”

Player: “Ah, no, that’s not it, I’m talking about the real world...”

Rena: “Well, it’s not that rare of a name so you don’t have to worry about it, yes?”

Player: “.....If I look closely, I think I have also seen Rena-san’s face from somewhere... (mumble mumble)”

For some reason he’s pondering while mumbling something with a small voice... I can’t hear him perfectly, but I’m not that interested by it, so let’s leave him be like that.

Rena: “In any case, I’m going ahead now.”

Yuu: “Ah, please wait! I will die if you leave me in this depths! By the way, my name is Yuu! I haven’t said it, right?”

Rena: “I see, let’s go.”

I advanced ahead alongside him hurrying and following me.

Chapter 27 - North Underground

Passage 3

Rena: “.....sigh~”

She sighed unintentionally... The reason being was because she just beheaded three Sahagins that were trying to assault her and were killed in a second..... I wonder how much Player Skill (PS) that this woman really has...

Rena: “? Are you okay? ”

Yuu: “Y-yes, I’m fine. Please don’t worry about me.”

I was out of luck when I encountered her at that corner three days ago... I should have stopped myself from going alone when a friend of mine from the same recon party could not come due to an urgent matter in real life but, it’s already too late to regret about it, right?

Rena: “Is that so? Then, please don’t hesitate to tell me if there’s something going on.”

Yuu: “Yes, thank you very much.”

Well, nevertheless, this person, Genocider.....no, Rena-san is unexpectedly a considerate person, unlike the rumors around her and her playstyle.

I was forcibly brought right from the get go and I got scared by the sudden event, however she didn’t order me to do something that is absolutely impossible.

Or rather, I only have a favorable impression towards her as she asked me everything that she doesn't know like an innocent child with something along the lines like "what is that?", "so then, what would become of this?", "is that what it means?".

As a member of a recon party, I'm happy to share her the knowledge as I want to talk about it as well. In addition, even when I answered that I didn't know, she would always withdraw her question without any remorse and change the subject by saying "I see, then this is". I can't really think of her being that Genocider.....and above all, she's cute as well.....

Even right now, she killed all of the enemies before they can even approach me and looked back occasionally to show her concern as my level is still low.

Yuu: "..."

I was deep in thought while looking at her back...

Her back sure is beautiful as well, and every time she walks, her hips and her slender legs look lovel-! Wait! Not that!! What I'm thinking about is Rena, a name that I have heard in real life, and I swear I have seen her face somewhere..... It can't be helped as I'm really curious about this.

Yuu: "...There's no way such a beautiful girl is acquainted with an otaku like me. (murmur)"

Really... where have I seen her...? Perhaps from the school

Yuu: "———Ah! AAAAAAHHH!!"

Rena: "!! For you to suddenly screamed like that, what happened? Did you find anything?"

Yuu: "!! N-No! It's nothing!!"

□□□That's right! It's Ichijou Reina-san who is in the same class as me!! Her hair has a white highlight and her eyes are burgundy, but that's it! The rest are not different at all! Even she named herself Rena which is similar to her last name!!

Rena: “.....Is that so?”

Yuu: “Y-yes! I'm sorry to have surprised you!!”

Dangerous, Rena-san currently has a dagger in her hand. If I do something bad, I'll be killed...or not, though, she might look at me with scary eyes...

More than that, we're talking about Rena-san! She doesn't have any interaction in the class, not even to friends nor classmates. She's always quiet, yet she's well-mannered with a princess-like appearance... Thus, she became an idol in school!!

She doesn't speak that much at school, not even in class, and she doesn't talk to teachers as well except for informative matter.

Rena: “...Is he finally broken now?”

For some reason I feel like I'm being insulted but I won't mind it... That Ichijou Reina-san is the genocider?! You must be kidding!!

Well, I guess it's fine for now, but the fact that Ichijou Reina-san is currently in a position where I can even touch her hand in any second now is taking away my composure..... Ichijou Reina-san's face was so close just a while ago...but, alongside her dagger in my mouth, though...

Yuu: “.....Is this finally a spring for an unsociable otaku like me?!”

Rena: “.....Is your head okay?”

Yuu: “Ha!? No! It's nothing, I swear! Please don't worry about me!”

Don't be too optimistic, me!! Remember how many times have you been betrayed?! An otaku will remain as an otaku for his whole life!! Don't betray your waifu!! Yes! That! But don't you ever say something like changing your waifu every three months!!!

Anyways! We, first and foremost are slugs! We can't go out from our place that is behind a rock!! Try going out under the sunlight! Soon after, your eyes will burn immediately which leads you to dry out and die!! That's why, we won't be deceived

Rena: "I see, it's not good to overdo it, you know?"

Yuu: "————"

Saying so, Ichijo Reina...no, Rena-san peered into my face at a point-blank range and blew away all of my reasoning. And thus, the already fragile stronghold that an otaku has, could do nothing but crumbled awa————

Rena: "If you do, I can easily decapitate you and let you respawn, yes?"

~~~~~I knew it.

Chapter 28 - North Underground

Passage 4

I'm having a trouble thinking about how to deal with him who suddenly started making such a fuss but immediately went back feeling depressed again. Really, what's wrong with him? Would it be better to cut off his head after all?

Rena: "Are you really okay?"

Yuu: "Yes, I'm fine....."

.....He doesn't seem to be okay, if I may say.

Yuu: "In any case, I'm fine. Nothing happened to me, yes that's right, I'm feeling completely fine."

This is very severe, yes.....? Did he receive some kind of mental attack in some way? However, I haven't detect any enemies yet, though? If so, should I expand my searching scope□□□

Rena: "Stop please."

Yuu: "...what's wrong? Are you going to finally cut my he-"

Rena: "I hear footsteps."

Yuu: "!! From where? How many people?"

Oh, seems like he has recovered, yes? That's great, but this is not the right time for that.

Rena: “So, what are you going to do?”

Yuu: “? What do you mean?”

Rena: “I’m apparently called the genocider, no? Will you be alright being seen together with me?”

Yuu: “.....Ahh.”

It would be pitiful for him as the game might get difficult for him to play in the future if they think that he’s my accomplice. Hence, I asked him in advance.

Yuu: “I don’t really see any problem, or rather, I’ve come this far so why don’t we go to the city together?”

Rena: “...won’t it be a problem for you if they mistook you as my accomplice?”

Yuu: “It’s okay! Please don’t worry about it as I could work this out!”

Saying so, he answered with a big smile.

Seems like there’s no need for concern if he has said that much, yes?

Yuu: “.....besides, an otaku classmate and the prettiest girl are now adventuring together in a game... No matter how you look at it, this is straight out of a light novel... (murmur)”

Thus, I headed towards the footsteps alongside him who for some reason, started mumbling again.

I followed Rena-san after having forcibly returned to my senses halfway along the trip.

Yuu: “...”

I'm starting to panic right now as I have cleared my mind... It's uncool to retract what I have said but... I do think it can't be helped as I wasn't in a capture party to begin with and I don't even have any real fighting experience as well...

Rena: "...you don't have to be that nervous, I'll kill them all."

.....As I thought, Rena-san is a kind person at heart, but why is she being savage like this? Could it be that there's a problem with her home environment□□□□□ No, no, as one would expect, it's rude to ask something like that.

I've been thinking rude things such as having contact with the prettiest girl in class since a while ago. This is not good indeed.

I have to look at her properly and□□□I really do want to be her friend.

Yuu: "It's okay, I'm also good with support skills so I won't be a burden for Rena-san, rather I might be pretty useful, you know?"

I responded to her concern with a smile.

Rena: ".....Is that so?"

Just as we proceed while exchanging such conversation□□□

???: "?! You again!?"

—————We encountered the players.

Aren't they one of the capture party? Moreover, it's Hannes' party as well..... Our class is different but we're still in the same grade so it's hard to meet him like this, you see... it would have been great if it was Harold's party instead, though.

Fortunately, he is the so-called high-caste student, hence I'm probably saved as he seems to not recognize a gloomy nerd like me. I'm glad that he still isn't aware of Rena-san as her atmosphere and demeanor is so startlingly different, really...

Rena: “.....Again?”

Hannes: “Y-you...?”

Ryne: “Hannes, calm down. I’m feeling the same but let’s keep our cool....”

Rena: “...I need to do my best so that I can remember individuals first, yes?”

Myra: “Poor Hannes...”

You’ve got to be kidding me right, Rena-san?! You have already killed them three times, you know?! Even at that time, I heard that you fought him at the plaza, met him in the narrow passage, and he even participated in the coup from start to finish only to be killed by you while he was making a passionate speech, you know?!

Surely you can’t forget about him like that, right...? This is too pitiful for Hannes and his party.....

Kellin: “Perhaps this is a lot crueller than just being killed...”

Yuu: “For some reason, I feel like the situation is becoming very interesting.”

We’re enemies as of current but I strongly agreed with what he said.

Ryne: “...hold on, there is one more person behind her.”

Hannes: “!! You have a comrade now?!”

It’s her biggest change, so of course they will notice, right?

Hannes and his party raised their guard and observed me with cautious.

Rena: “? He’s not my comrade, though?”

Hannes: “...Then why are you together with him?”

Rena: “Because he’s a well-informed person, I’m making him spits out all of the information.”

Hannes & Yuu: “” ... “”

No, it’s the truth, though!! But, there should be another way to say it, right?!! See! Look at them! Their gazes have changed from cautious to eyes full of worry!!

This is totally embarrassing, you know!! Their eyes are saying □What did she do to him?□ and □What a pitiful guy, indeed...□!!

Hannes: “...What did you do to him?”

Kellin: “What a pitiful guy, indeed...”

See! They literally said it!! Even that Kellin guy laughed at me!!?

Rena: “? It seems I can’t follow this conversation at all...”

Yuu: “This is hopeless...”

Although I vaguely felt it before, I wonder if Rena-san is a natural-born airhead□□□while thinking so, I moved behind Rena-san to support as much as I could□□□

Chapter 29 - North Underground

Passage 5

Yuu: “This person is beyond saving...”

Along with his extremely impolite remarks, he—Yuu-san moved a step back.

Let’s see what got strengthened,...oh?

Name: [Rena] | Gender: [Woman]

Race: [Human] | Level: [40]

Condition: [Possessed [Kageyama-san]]

Granted [STR Increase [Medium]

Granted [VIT Increase [Medium]

Granted [AGI Increase [Medium]

Granted [Cut Strengthening [Medium]

Granted [Accuracy Increase [Medium]

Karma Value: [-181 [Evil]]

Ooh, aren't these great enhancements? It doesn't matter if I don't have it, though with this, it will save my time.

Hannes: "So he isn't your comrade?!"

Myra: "...Either way, he's an enemy."

I threw a poison needle while she aimed her bow towards Yuu-san. Because there are a lot enemies for one person, why don't I let her eat one of my new poison, yes?

I charged in while continuing to throw the needles. The vanguard immediately went forward and the rear-guard stepped back, but that doesn't matter.

A longsword and an axe are approaching from both sides. I dodged the waving longsword, lifted up the axe from below with the hilt of my dagger, slipped through from their side, and swung my dagger towards the spear user. While he's in his defensive position, I threw iron scraps at the priest girl and removed her head.

Kellin: "Shi-!!"

The axe user and the swordsman attacked from behind immediately after the surprised spear user rolled over to another spot. I threw another needle again from the flank to prevent an attack towards Yuu-san. Naturally this time it was prevented with a metallic sound, but it's okay as the purpose was to stop the attack.

I ignored the axe user who takes more time to re-establish his axe because it's heavier than the others, thrust my dagger at the swordsman and pierced through with my dominant hand. It's called "Kote" in Kendo, you see.

Ryne: "Guh!!"

After dropping his longsword, the head of the swordsman went flying.

I then returned to my initial position and cast both □Holy Wall□ and □Wind Wall□.

Eleanor: “□Exploding Flame□!”

Without a pause, I blocked the magic that was released by the magician and the axe user once again tried to attack□□□

Hannes: “You think I will let you get me once again!?! □Earth Rhythm□!!”

————The ground radiates with intense effect from the axe that was slammed into the ground, elevated me, and the spear user approaches the place where he could get my footing.

Kellin: “□Three-stranded Whirlwind□!!”

After having Azabu-san and Inoue-san pulled me, I avoided it backwards and threw several iron scraps and poison needles towards the rear guard.

Eleanor: “□Firewall□!”

Myra: “□Thundercloud Arrow□!”

They defended it with magic and furthermore tried to counterattack. However, I also shot it down □Four Exploding Blades□, repelled the approaching axe, drove away the spear, and thrust my dagger into the axe user’s neck.

Hannes: “Gafuh?!”

Like so, I put explosive balls inside the headless body and threw it away to the rear guard. Whether it will explode many times or not even explode at all, it will still keep them restrained.

Kellin: “Fuh!”

I lowered my head and dodged the attack from the spear user who has recovered and bashed him with the hilt of my dagger from the side to make him lose his position.

I released a roundhouse kick immediately from his side which knocked him against the wall and attacked the rear guard again.

Eleanor: “!! □Heat Ray□!”

Myra: “□Killer Shot□!”

I approached while avoiding the obstacles from the rear guards by running on the wall. Then, I threw an iron ball with the □Meteor□ skill immediately to the archer who was fixing her next arrow which went through and smashed her head. Finally, I swung my dagger down while free-falling towards the miss magician, thus dividing her head into two parts.

Kellin: “Haah haah, you’ve got to be kidding me...”

Once again, the recovered spear user charged in, rolled over and attacked.

I cast □Gust□ and threw grains of sand at his face who was shouting while doing the same attacks.

Kellin: “Guh!!”

Like that, I lifted the spear with the hilt of my dagger, kicked his stomach, pulled him down to the ground, and then used my secret technique, The Nutcracker□□□a technique that I used on a boy who had touched my buttocks in elementary school which led him having a utilization problem□□□Release.

Kellin: “————uWAA?!”

Alongside the silly “Pakyan” sound, the spear user who had a surprised look and foams on his mouth will now wait to respawn.

□All existing skills level has increased□

□Karma value has fallen□

Rena: "...It's over, yes?"

Yuu: "...this person is a demon."

I returned back to Yuu-san who for some reason, became pigeon-toed and hurried our way to □Belzenstock City□.

Yuu: "Hey, what are you doing?"

Because Yuu-san, who still seems to not recovered yet, asked such question, let's answer it.

Rena: "I'm preparing self-made explosives along the passage."

Yuu: "...Why? The exit is already right there, though?"

Rena: "Because the sea will be right above us, the seawater will surge in here if we blow these up, right? It would be tiring to battle immediately every time we encounter someone, hence I'm trying to buy some time for the other players to reach here."

Like so, I set up some explosives evenly along the passage immediately after going up the stairs while responding to his questions, not only on the ceiling but also on the ground and walls.

Yuu: "...would that be alright?"

Rena: "It's not as if they can't go nor pass here, and to begin with, the seawater will eventually turn into crystals in this place, right? With that being said, they will be able to pass here again soon, yes?"

Yuu: "I-I see..."

Rena: "Alright, it's done!"

The work that I've been doing while we were talking is complete, so let's blow it up, that is to say, naturally with a large scale.

Rena: "Now then, we'll now leave this place. It will explode in about three minutes."

Yuu: "Ah, yes."

I finally get out from the long underground passage along with Yuu-san, who is having distant eyes.

Hmmm, it should be around one week, I guess? The outside air is pleasant and the blue sky is dazzling. Well, I had enjoyed it as much as I wanted in the real world, though.

While being deeply moved by the scenery, the seawater on the left side of us blew up along with a huge explosion sound rang from the underground passage exit behind us, and thus a whirlpool will be created soon afterwards.

□Karma value has fallen□

Rena: "It seems like a success, yes?"

Yuu: "...so it seems."

By the way, if we go a little to the west, we will soon arrive at □Belzenstock City□.

Interlude 1 - The Chief who has a Bald Spot and Laughed Uncontrollably

“Ah”

Starting with a mutter that someone leaked, shrieks were let loose here and there. Everyone was validating their share of work while trying to simulate what will happen simultaneously...

“Until when will this girl stop decreasing her karma!?!”

“Ubwaa.....”

What is beyond their screen right now is a player named Rena who is running through the city, slaughtering both players and NPCs.

“Senpai! This is bad! She’s already about to cut her karma to -50!”

“I already know that!”

Even though it’s just been the second day of service, this player has already killed the tutorial NPC and drove the city into confusion and terror. This was still unexpected, albeit somewhat leaving it to the players themselves.

“What, what? What’s going on?”

“Ah, chief! Look at this player!”

“Let’s see? .....AHAHAHAHAHA, what’s with her!? Ain’t she a dangerous one!”

“This is not the time to laugh!”

Meanwhile, the girl left the city, slaughtering everyone up until the end. At this point, they are already calculating how much the □Town of Beginning□ has been damaged and.... starting on a death march on whether they can put up an event on that town while having distant eyes.

“Though, isn’t it fine? She has left the town, right?”

However, one employee who for caution’s sake, was watching and monitoring the said woman player let out a pitiful voice saying, □Wait... wait...□.

“What happened?”

“The said player killed herself, respawned back to the city and attacked the temple...”

“.....hah?”

“The bishop was killed and the temple was set on fire...”

“.....hah?”

The other employees who were still in a panic mode tried to check it but it’s too late. The player continued her slaughterfest immediately after leaving the temple, set fire right in the middle of the city and fled to the Underground Tomb.

“” .....””

In this short amount of time, everyone had burned out and stunned, except for the chief who was laughing over the surging development.

“.....this girl just earned -120 karma value on her first day.”

“Even though the higher the number, the more difficult it will be...”

“What do we do, chief? It’s just her who is standing out, though?”

“Should we make an adjustment?”

The chief, who had been laughing and taking photos as well as videos about it, finally came near and answered his subordinate’s questions.

“No, this is fine! Rather, the players in the beta version were all goody two shoes just like any other games and the chaos were too few, you see! At least we need to let someone like her exist!”

“...He’s definitely enjoying this (mumble).”

“They need to show their true character in this game!”

““Sigh~...””

The usual epicureanism from the chief was not something that had just started recently, hence the employees gave up and resumed their work for the first official event.

However, half a month later.....

“This girl finally did it. huh!?!?”

“Our efforts so faaaaar!!”

“Uboaaa...”

“This brute! Heretic! Monsteeeeeer!!!”

“AHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!!!!”

The screen shows the said player killed Alexei, an important NPC, and succeeded in a coup d’etat by making the feudal lord retire and hand his throne to an anti-social leader.

“T-the official event hosted by the lord has been destroyed...”

“Where in the world our hard work gone to...?”

“AHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!!!!!”

The official event that the employees on site had prepared so far was crushed, and once again, they met the tragic word, burned out.

“Or rather, what should we do!? Her karma value is already -180!”

“That’s right! Don’t we need to release the advanced class at -200 soon!?!”

“Even though it should have been in the middle phase to get over 200...”

“AHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!!!!!”

It’s quite difficult for them to adjust according to the said player as it will also leash a great majority of players... If it was a bit higher than the top karma value from the beta version, it would be impossible for them to break through while running solo....

“Damn, that was amusing! This is what I wanted to see, guys!”

“Please think about the situation here as well...”

“Sorry sorry, but won’t this just follow the concept of this game?”

“Certainly, it would have remained the same as hundreds of other games before...”

“In the future, the number of latecomers imitating this child will increase, and the chaos will expand its power, right~!?”

Contrary to the chief’s exhilarating voice, the workers start doing what they can do with dead fish-eyes and murmured words such as “I need to buy a stomach medicine for a sec...”, “Even though his hair is thinning recently...”, and “We need to hurry for an alternative event...”..... Still, the secretary dragged out the chief to the lobby of the company that he extremely exploited and made him sit in seiza position while having a board saying “I’m a bad child” hanging around his neck.

---

Miss Rena just crushed one of the official events.

Interlude 2 - My Name is Ichijou Reina!

???: “Hey, what are you doing?”

A boy approached me who was sitting in the park while looking at a row of ants.

Reina: “I’m watching mister ants.”

Ryuuta: “Hmmm, what’s your name? I’m Ryuuta!”

Reina: “My name is Ichijou Reina, nice to meet you?”

He asked my name so I introduced myself as my mother told me that this kind of thing is important....my father for some reason doesn’t bat an eye everytime I greet him, though...

Ryuuta: “...Hey, I’ll tell you something much more interesting!”

Saying so, the boy...Ryuuta-kun ran and came back while pulling the hose which extends from the faucet.

Reina: “Is it alright if you use that without permission?”

Ryuuta: “It’s fine! More importantly, look...”

Ryuuta-kun plugged the hose into mister ants’ nest entrance and began spewing the water.

Ryuuta: “See!? It’s fun, right!? The ants are drowning and getting out of their nests, see!?!”

Reina: “Heee~”

Ryuuta: “It’s interesting to pour the water in, right? It’s more fun than just watching at them, you know!”

I see~, so this is a spewing □play□? He taught me something nice.

Reina: “Hey, can I try it too?”

Ryuuta: “Sure! Here!”

Ryuta handed me the hose with a smile. My mother said that if someone is doing various generous things to me for our first meeting, then he’s either a good child or a dangerous adult, but Ryuuta-kun is not an adult so I think he’s a good child.

Reina: “Thank you, then I’ll try it too, okay?”

Ryuuta: “Yeah, but if we don’t look for it, the ant nest will be no□□□
GAPHAA!?!”

Because I can’t see any other mister ants’ nest around here, there is no other way but to plug the hose into Ryuyta-kun’s mouth and do the □Spewing play□.

Reina: “It’s truuue~ there are air bubbles coming out, I see?”

Ryuuta: “——— Gah hack?! ——— ?!?”

Ryuuta-kun stopped moving within minutes of the □play□that he taught. What happened to him? Is he dead like mister ants?

???: “...Reina? What are you doing?”

Reina: “Ah, mother!”

It’s that time already! Mother has come to pick me up!

Reina: “Mother, look! This boy, Ryuuta-kun told me about □Spewing play□, see!?”

Mother: “You...!? I have to call an ambulance right away!!”

Reina: “? What’s wrong?”

After thinking that mother is contacting someone in a hurry, an ambulance came along with a loud noise and carried Ryuuta-kun away.

Reina: “You’re going home now? Bye-bye, Ryuuta-kun.”

Ryuuta’s Mother: “.....”

Greetings are important, but Ryuuta-kun’s mother just stared at me without replying.....father was like that too, why? Why is mother apologizing to Ryuuta-kun’s mother? Did something happen...?

Mother: “We will pay the money afterwards... I’m very sorry for today’s event, it was an oversight on my responsibility.”

The ambulance went somewhere after my mother spoke a little difficult language that I could not understand.

Mother: “...Shall we go home?”

Reina: “Okay! anone anone! About today!”

I thoroughly told what I did today to mother with words that she can understand easily and then mother asked regarding Ryuuta-kun along the way.

Mother: “...Does Reina know what mister ants and Ryuuta-kun thinking when they were spewed with water?”

Reina: “? I’m not mister ants or Ryuuta-kun, you know?”

What answer does she want to hear? I’m Reina, you know? It’s a great name that my mother gave me, you know?

Mother: "...Then, what if they did the same thing to Reina?"

Reina: "I don't want it, though?"

Mother: "Right? Then, why did you do it?"

Reina: "Ryuuta-kun said that it was fun, you know? I liked that [Spewing play]."

Mother: ".....I see."

She said while laughing as if she was troubled.

Mother: "Does Reina like mother?"

Reina: "More than that, you know!"

Mother: "Then, Can you hear mother's request?"

Reina: "Okay!"

Mother: "Then, can you promise me that you won't do spewing play to others?"

Reina: "? Okay?"

Why bother prohibiting it? I thought it was fun, but I still don't want to do it that often, though...?

Mother: "So, promise?"

Reina: "Yup! Promise!"

Mother: "Thank you Reina, I love you."

Reina: "I also love you, mother!"

Saying so, we walked home while holding hands.

Reina: “...!.....a dream, huh?”

It was a very nostalgic dream about my childhood... that was my memory with my mother before I was an elementary school student.

Reina: “It’s been a long time, mother”

Now then, I need to wash my face from the tear marks on my cheeks and get ready to go to school.

Reina: “I’m going, mother.”

I said my greetings to my mother’s photo and got out of the futon. Today is going to be a good day.
